APPROVE TARIFF RATE ON MANGANESE ORE

HOUSE, SENATE CONFEREES FAVOR SENATE FIGURES

1 CENT POUND ON ORE EXCEEDING 10 PER CENT OF METALLIC MANGANESE

INSTEAD OF 30 PER CENT AS SUGGESTED IN HOUSE MEASURE

Washington, April 8.—(U.P.)—The senate tariff rate of one cent a pound on manganese ore was approved by house and senate conferees today. The rate is the same as the house rate, but applies to ore in excess of 10 per cent of metallic manganese, instead of 30 per cent in the house measure.

The conferees decided on 30 more amendments today, all of them in the metals schedule of the bill. They have now finished almost one-fourth of the total controversial items.

Among the other rates agreed upon today were:

A compromise duty of $2.25 a ton on sponge iron; the senate figure of 3 cents a pound on the chromium content of iron; the senate rate of 80 cents a pound and 50 per cent on tungsten metal; the senate rate of 3½ cents a pound on ferrochrome; the house rate of $2 a pound on cerium metal and ferrocerium.

PLAY GAME OF GOLF TO BREAK ELECTION TIE

Schuyler, Neb., April 8.—(U.P.)—Instead of flipping a coin, Joseph M. Rogers and K. J. Folda broke an election tie on the golf course, Folda winning the office of city treasurer 9 up and 7 to go in a 36-hole match. Each had received 371 votes for the office in city elections last week.

The match ended on the 29th green when Folda sank a long putt for a birdie and the treasurership.

TO QUESTION MANN REGARDING DEATH OF PEARL OSTEN

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 8.—(U.P.)—Sheriff Frank Twetten said today that he would go to Stillwater this week to question Andy Mann, confessed killer of three persons including Dorothy Aune, regarding the killing of Pearl Osten, Minneapolis music student.

Miss Osten, whose body was found on Oct. 2, 1927, in a shed near her sister's home, lived in Pelican Rapids, Minn.

VAUDEVILLE TEAM GROWING RICH FROM OIL LAND

Muskegon, Mich., April 8.—(U.P.)—The days when they answered the three-day call on vaudeville stages through out the country are passed for Bob Cook and Did Oatman, his wife. They have been made rich through a bit of luck and waiting around booking offices for a chance is a past event in their lives.

Cook and his wife six years ago took over a mortgage on a ten-acre tract of land in South Oklahoma City because Cook's sister, who held the mortgage, wanted the money. A couple of weeks ago an oil well came in on the land, which adjoins the tract where the Mary Sudik ran unchecked for 11 days.

"We've turned down an offer of $1,000,000 for the ten acres," Cook said today, "preferring the royalties, which are running at $7,400 a day. So I guess we're in clover, all right. We never paid much attention to the little plot of land until they began drilling for oil in that district."

Cook said the oil well has made him a believer in dreams.

Berlin, April 8.—(U.P.)—Poisoning from candy has killed two children in the village of Crochowitz, near Breslau, and made 24 others seriously ill, a message received here said today. The children collected the candy as gifts during their traditional spring singing, when the choir goes from door to door singing hymns.

TWO ARE VICTIMS OF MURDER AND SUICIDE PLOT

Council Bluffs, Ia., April 8.—(U.P.)—Elinor Lahde, 25, of Council Bluffs and Frank Porter, 30, of St. Paul, were victims of a murder-suicide plot executed by a jealous lover, officials said today.

Miss Lahde died almost instantly last night when Porter, coming here to propose, fired one bullet into her breast as she told him she had accepted another man. A moment later Porter shot himself through the brain.

ATTEMPT MADE TO KIDNAP A CHICAGO ALDERMAN

THIS AND GUN PLAY STARTS OFF ILLINOIS PRIMARY TODAY

POLICE COMPLETE PLANS FOR PROTECTION AGAINST FRAUD AND VIOLENCE

Chicago, April 8.—(U.P.)—An attempt to kidnap an alderman and gunplay which brought injury to George Rudolph, 55-year-old dishwasher, started off the Illinois primary today as police were completing plans for protection against fraud and violence.

Seven men brandishing pistols crowded the automobile in which Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, candidate for democratic committeeman of the 7th ward was riding, against the curb but were foiled when a squad of police happened by. Three of the men were captured.

In another political district, four young men strode into a restaurant and demanded of a patron that he tell them where they could find Clarence Haggerty, recently active for Edward Dempsey, Thompson republican candidate for committeeman from the 38th ward.

When the patron, Bob Kirk, said he didn't know, one of the men struck him with a pistol butt. The quartet fired three shots at John Kelly, Kirk's table companion, as he fled to the kitchen, one of the bullets striking Rudolph.

The four men fled as police arrived but the automobile in which they were believed to have escaped was captured an hour later and the three occupants were arrested and held in connection with the shooting.

The three men captured in connection with the attempt to capture Govier were charged with carrying concealed weapons and assault with intent to kill. Govier signed the complaints against them.

WORKERS WRESTLE WITH NEW RUNAWAY OKLAHOMA OIL WELL

THREATENS ANY MINUTE TO BECOME AS DANGEROUS AS THE MARY SUDIK

GEYSER NOW SHOOTING OIL AND GAS HIGHER THAN THE FORMER GUSHER

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8.—(U.P.)—The alertness of oil field workers which has resulted in millions of dollars worth of oil being taken from this field was sharpened here today as workers wrestled with a new "runaway" well which threatened at any minute to become as dangerous as the giant Mary Sudik well.

The geyser, shooting oil and gas higher than the "wild Mary Sudik" well came in yesterday and is located near the famed geyser which spouted unchecked for 11 days.

It was shooting a highly inflammable gas. Fire precautions which caused operations in the field to be abandoned, were maintained and only workers were permitted on the field.

To eliminate part of the fire danger, oil saturated fields were plowed under. Farmers, who fled before the rain of oil and gas from the Mary Sudik well, returned to their homes and were beginning to prepare for spring planting.

Omaha Man 'Goes After' a Census Enumerator

Omaha, April 8.—(U.P.)—Because Arthur Johnson, census enumerator, dressed just like a man who had held him up several years ago, and "asked the same damn fool questions," Sebastiano Anzalone, Italian groceryman, chased him from his store with a butcher knife when he attempted to enumerate Anzalone. After a police sergeant had properly introduced the enumerator to the groceryman the latter cheerfully answered all questions.

Mahatma Gandhi Fulfills Pledge and Visits Village of Aat, Defying the Indian Police

3,000 DEVOTED FOLLOWERS RUSH TO SEE HIM

LEADER OF INDIA'S REVOLT AGAINST THE SALT TAX

CROWDS SING REVOLUTIONARY HYMN COMPOSED FOR SALT REBELLION

Bombay, India, April 8.—(U.P.)—The Mahatma M. K. Gandhi fulfilled his pledge today to visit the little village of Aat, scene of a scuffle between police and rebels yesterday, in defiance of threats that he would be arrested. He was not molested by the police.

While Gandhi was leading the Aat demonstration, his son Ram Das was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Surat for breaking the salt laws.

Ram Das delivered a speech against the government in the court room. A huge crowd which had collected outside demonstrated against the imposition of sentence and against the government.

Three thousand devoted followers of the Mahatma flocked into Aat from neighboring villages to hear the leader of India's revolt against the salt taxes urge the nation to defy British rule. There was some disappointment, especially among Gandhi's followers, that his act of violence today did not bring the immediate arrest anticipated.

Crowds of spectators, singing the revolutionary hymn composed for the salt-rebellion, marched with Gandhi along the seacoast to Aat.

Hundreds of volunteers, stripped to the waist, gathered salt in violation of the law, and placed it in their loin cloths to await the coming of their masters.

Gandhi arrived in an automobile and soon after addressed the worshipping throng.

Gandhi stood like an idol, while the crowds, many of whom had never seen the Mahatma in person, openly venerated him. Villagers, including many women and children, swarmed around his automobile, each anxious to pour into his hands an offering—a flower, a coin, or perhaps a pinch of the symbolic salt.

Meanwhile, at Bombay, the Satyagrahis (passive resisters of the British government) continued their salt-making operations without interference from the police.

Three of Gandhi's chief lieutenants—friends and co-workers since the beginning of the non-cooperation movement—were under arrest today, charged with manufacturing salt illegally. Among them was Gangi Dharrao Deshpande, one of Gandhi's closest rebel companions.

3 MEN ARE KILLED, 3 HURT IN BLAST ON BRITISH SHIP

Hong Kong, China, April 8.—(U.P.)—Three men were killed and three others seriously injured in an explosion on the British destroyer Sepoy today.

The casualties occurred when a depth bomb on board the destroyer was exploded prematurely.

The Sepoy was slightly damaged by the blast.

The dead are a warrant officer, a petty officer, and an able seaman. The injured include two able seamen who are seriously injured, and a petty officer who is suffering slight injuries. Two of the bodies were blown overboard when the depth charge exploded. The bodies were recovered later by the crew of the destroyer Sterling.

The explosion occurred while the British fleet was engaged in battle practice off Hong Kong this morning.

London, April 8.—(U.P.)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong said five deaths had been caused by the explosion today aboard the destroyer Sepoy, some of the wounded succumbing soon after the blast.

SLAYER OF MOTHER IS EXECUTED

SIDNEY H. FOX, "CONFIDENCE MAN" AND FORGER, MEETS HIS END

Maidstone, Kent, England, April 8.—(U.P.)—Sidney Harry Fox, 31-year-old "confidence man" and forger, was executed this morning for the murder of his widowed mother.

The pleasant young man, once known, because of his engaging smile and cherubic face, as "Little Lord Fauntleroy," went to the gallows at 6:15 A. M.

He protested his innocence of the crime—England's first case of matricide in 50 years—to the end.

Fox's death marked the final episode in the sensational "room 66" case.

The tragedy occurred Oct. 23, 1929. Fire broke out in room 66 at the Metropole Hotel, Margate, Kent. Mrs. Rosaline Fox, a woman of 63, was in the room asleep. Her son, Sydney, had an adjoining room.

He gave the alarm, but other guests in the hotel entered the room and found Mrs. Fox dead. A verdict of "death from misadventure" was returned.

Suspicion was first aroused when Fox began to make inquiries regarding collecting the $15,000 insurance. On November 3, he was arrested on a charge of fraud. A week later his mother's body was exhumed, and on Jan. 10, Fox was charged with her murder.

CONFESSED KILLER OF TWO CHILDREN, MAN, IN PRISON

ANDY MANN ACCUSTOMING SELF TO STILLWATER PENITENTIARY

PLEADS GUILTY TO THE TAGUE SLAYING, ESCAPES PROSECUTION FOR AUNE CASE

Stillwater, Minn., April 8.—(U.P.)—Andy Mann, 40, confessed slayer of two children and one old man, today was accustoming himself to the prison routine that will compose the rest of his life.

Mann began a life imprisonment sentence to the state penitentiary here when he arrived at 6 P. M. last night. The negro had been sentenced after he pleaded guilty in Ramsey county district court to the murder of Earl Tague, 16.

By his plea of guilty to the Tague slaying, Mann escaped prosecution for killing Dorothy Aune, 12-year-old Minneapolis girl, whose body was found near South Minneapolis railroad tracks last summer. He also confessed to burning Bob Howard, 70, to death in a shack here.

After a vain effort to escape pleading guilty to the crimes he had confessed, Mann pleaded insanity. The court questioned him and decided he was sane. Mann then changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced.

Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, announced he would go to Stillwater institution this week to attempt to clear up minor discrepancies in Mann's confession to the Aune killing.

In the state penitentiary less than 72 hours after the nude body of Tague was found near the municipal airport, Mann's conviction and sentence was one of the fastest on record in Ramsey county court history.

When Dorothy Aune disappeared last summer, police and detectives all over the northwest searched for her brutal slayer. After her body was found, the Twin Cities were at a high pitch of emotion. Fearing that Mann might be attacked by persons who flocked to his trial, officials hurried him away to the penitentiary last night to prevent any possible trouble.

BODY OF ST. PAUL BUSINESS MAN IS TAKEN FROM RIVER

St. Paul, April 8.—(U.P.)—The body of Charles C. Weidman, president of Robinson, Straus & Co., wholesale St. Paul milliners, has been recovered from the Mississippi river.

The body was found yesterday by a ferryman at South St. Paul but it was not identified until today.

Weidman disappeared February 28. Later his overcoat was found on the high bridge after a woman reported having seen a man leap from the span.

SOUTHERNERS HURL EPITHETS AT EACH OTHER

Washington, April 8.—(U.P.)—Epithets which passed between Senator Black, democrat, Ala., and J. E. Pierce, editor of the Huntsville, Ala., Times, witness before the senate lobby committee, almost broke up the Muscle Shoals lobbying hearing today.

Calling each other "contemptible liars" and "contemptible curs," Black and Pierce invited each other outside to settle their arguments. Senator Walsh, however, quieted the men.

BRIAND DISCUSSES FRENCH SECURITY WITH HENDERSON

FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER HAS BACKING OF FRENCH CABINET

APPROVES NEGOTIATIONS CONDUCTED BY BRIAND AND TARDIEU

Paris, April 8.—(U.P.)—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand left Paris at 9 A. M. today to return to London, where he will continue his discussions with Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson on the proposed French security pact. Briand returned to London with the complete backing of the cabinet, which approved the negotiations thus far conducted by him and Premier Andre Tardieu.

For the first time since the beginning of the negotiations, Briand has complete authority of the premier and cabinet to negotiate for anything he pleases, but France is not hopeful that the conference will produce more than a three-power agreement, with herself out of the pact.

Briand's position is definite, it was declared. France will not accept any great reduction in tonnage requirements unless Italy changes her attitude, particularly in regard to her demand for parity.

FREDERICK PRICE DIES IN STATE PENITENTIARY

Stillwater, Minn., April 8.—(U.P.)—Frederick Price, Minneapolis, who was serving a life prison sentence after conviction of murdering his wife, Mary Fridley Price, to obtain her insurance money, died in the state penitentiary last night of diabetes.

Price was convicted of pushing his wife over a cliff along the Mississippi river so that he and an insurance agent could obtain the large sum of money for which her life was insured. The conviction came largely through efforts of William Hoy, detective, who instituted a search throughout the northwest for evidence that the two men killed Mrs. Price.

FOREIGN FLASHES

Berlin, April 8.—(U.P.)—The cabinet has approved the draft of a bill for agriculture relief proposed by the food controller, in which the tariffs on food products are once more increased. The price of wheat will be stabilized at 260 marks a metric ton, and that of rye at 230 marks.

Hamburg, Germany, April 8.—(U.P.)—The former Crown Princess Cecile, with her youngest son, Prince Friedrich, sailed today for Buenos Aires, where she will visit another son, Prince Louis Ferdinand, who is working in an automobile factory there.

Tepic, Nayarit, April 8.—(U.P.)—The gang of Mexican bandits which has held J. E. Bristow, Texas oil man, captive for a month, prepared today to surrender their prisoner. Gordon Obie Bristow, former captain of the University of Oklahoma football team and son of the prisoner, concluded negotiations with a representative of the bandits for release of his father.

The agreement called for the safe return of Bristow today in payment of 3,000 pesos. As soon as the Texan is safe, military authorities here planned to launch a campaign of extermination against the bandits.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT ON TRIAL

St. Paul, April 8.—(U.P.)—William Keller, one of three suspects in the robbery March 17 of the Payne Avenue State Bank, went on trial in Ramsey county district court today.

Most of the session was devoted to selection of a jury. Joseph Conroy and George Vreeland, the other two suspects, will follow Keller on trial in the order named.

SENATE DRYS IN CAMPAIGN TO ATTACK BUYING

SENATOR SHEPPARD HAS BILL PLACING HEAVY PENALTIES ON LIQUOR BUYERS

PENALTIES OF 5 YEARS IN JAIL WITH $10,000 MAXIMUM FINE FOR PURCHASERS

By PAUL R. MAILLON (United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, April 8.—Senate dries are planning a drive to make buyers of liquor equally guilty with sellers as the lobby committee continues its investigation into the wet and dry activities of prominent political leaders. Two outstanding developments came in the seething prohibition controversy today:

1. Senator Sheppard, democrat, of Texas, announced that hearings on his bill to hand heavy penalties on liquor buyers would begin by a sub-committee of the judiciary next week.

2. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., prominent dry and navy secretary under Woodrow Wilson, was called before the senate lobby committee to shed additional light on his editorial demand in the Raleigh News and Observer for the resignation of Chairman John J. Raskob of the democratic national committee.

Sheppard said he would appear before the committee in behalf of his bill to hand heavy penalties on liquor buyers would begin by a sub-committee of the judiciary next week.

His bill carries proposed penalties of five years in jail with a $10,000 maximum fine for purchasers, the same maximum penalties offered bootleggers under the Jones act. Senator Brookhart, republican, endorsed the measure late yesterday in an attack on the wets.

Daniels was called before the lobby committee by Senator Robinson, republican, Ind., the only "regular" republican on the committee. His appearance was expected to provoke another clash between committee members similar to that when Chairman John J. Raskob of the democratic national committee, appeared last week.

Henry J. Curran, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, also was called before the committee today but his appearance depended upon the length of Daniels' testimony.

The Williamson transfer bill, shifting enforcement from the treasury to the justice department, will be taken up Thursday by a senate judiciary sub-committee. Desire for early enactment of this measure was expressed to the judiciary committee yesterday by Attorney General Mitchell.

A fight by western insurgents to repeal the national origins clause of the immigration act was foreshadowed as the senate took up the Harris immigration bill. This measure would extend the national origins clause to countries of the western hemisphere. It now applies to the rest of the world, save those countries which have no quota.

The westerners, who opposed the clause, which works out to decrease immigration from southern European and Scandinavian countries, while increasing the quotas of England and Germany, may seek to attach a repeal amendment to the Harris bill.

Before the senate also was the annual appropriation bill.

Meanwhile the senate naval affairs sub-committee planned to open an inquiry which may grow into a first-class investigation of America's naval aviation and its status as compared with that of other countries. The committee today called before it Alford J. Williams, famous navy speed pilot, who resigned his commission recently because he was ordered to sea duty.

Transportation had the place of honor in the interstate commerce committee, which considered the Parker bill to regulate bus lines. The agriculture committee continued hearings on a survey of unskilled farm labor.

Consolidation of the various government agencies caring for war veterans was the business of the day in the house. The house judiciary committee was to continue its investigation into charges against Judge Moskowitz of New York.

POPE PIUS RECEIVES MEXICAN ARCHBISHOP

Vatican City, April 8.—(U.P.)—Pope Pius received Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores of Mexico, in private audience today. The archbishop was one of the chief negotiators in the recent settlement of the church problem.

Later 60 Mexican pilgrims were received by the pope.

The pope, addressing the pilgrims, said he blessed them and Mexico with particular affection because "Mexico has been so much tried and has suffered so much and Mexicans have been able to show their attachment to the faith of their forefathers and loyalty to the church."

SLAYING, ESCAPES PROSECUTION FOR AUNE CASE

Stillwater, Minn., April 8.—(U.P.)—Andy Mann, 40, confessed slayer of two children and one old man, today was accustoming himself to the prison routine that will compose the rest of his life.

Mann began a life imprisonment sentence to the state penitentiary here when he arrived at 6 P. M. last night. The negro had been sentenced after he pleaded guilty in Ramsey county district court to the murder of Earl Tague, 16.

By his plea of guilty to the Tague slaying, Mann escaped prosecution for killing Dorothy Aune, 12-year-old Minneapolis girl, whose body was found near South Minneapolis railroad tracks last summer. He also confessed to burning Bob Howard, 70, to death in a shack here.

After a vain effort to escape pleading guilty to the crimes he had confessed, Mann pleaded insanity. The court questioned him and decided he was sane. Mann then changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced.

Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, announced he would go to Stillwater institution this week to attempt to clear up minor discrepancies in Mann's confession to the Aune killing.

In the state penitentiary less than 72 hours after the nude body of Tague was found near the municipal airport, Mann's conviction and sentence was one of the fastest on record in Ramsey county court history.

When Dorothy Aune disappeared last summer, police and detectives all over the northwest searched for her brutal slayer. After her body was found, the Twin Cities were at a high pitch of emotion. Fearing that Mann might be attacked by persons who flocked to his trial, officials hurried him away to the penitentiary last night to prevent any possible trouble.

BODY OF ST. PAUL BUSINESS MAN IS TAKEN FROM RIVER

St. Paul, April 8.—(U.P.)—The body of Charles C. Weidman, president of Robinson, Straus & Co., wholesale St. Paul milliners, has been recovered from the Mississippi river.

The body was found yesterday by a ferryman at South St. Paul but it was not identified until today.

Weidman disappeared February 28. Later his overcoat was found on the high bridge after a woman reported having seen a man leap from the span.

SOUTHERNERS HURL EPITHETS AT EACH OTHER

Washington, April 8.—(U.P.)—Epithets which passed between Senator Black, democrat, Ala., and J. E. Pierce, editor of the Huntsville, Ala., Times, witness before the senate lobby committee, almost broke up the Muscle Shoals lobbying hearing today.

Calling each other "contemptible liars" and "contemptible curs," Black and Pierce invited each other outside to settle their arguments. Senator Walsh, however, quieted the men.

BRIAND DISCUSSES FRENCH SECURITY WITH HENDERSON

FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER
HAS BACKING OF FRENCH
CABINET

APPROVES NEGOTIATIONS CONDUCTED BY BRIAND AND TARDIEU

Paris, April 8.—(U.P.)—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand left Paris at 9 A. M. today to return to London, where he will continue his discussions with Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson on the proposed French security pact.

Briand returned to London with the complete backing of the cabinet, which approved the negotiations thus far conducted by him and Premier Andre Tardieu.

For the first time since the beginning of the negotiations, Briand has complete authority of the premier and cabinet to negotiate for anything he pleases, but France is not hopeful that the conference will produce more than a three-power agreement, with herself out of the pact.

Briand's position is definite, it was declared. France will not accept any great reduction in tonnage requirements unless Italy changes her attitude, particularly in regard to her demand for parity.

FREDERICK PRICE DIES IN STATE PENITENTIARY

Stillwater, Minn., April 8.—(U.P.)—Frederick Price, Minneapolis, who was serving a life prison sentence after conviction of murdering his wife, Mary Fridley Price, died in the state penitentiary last night of diabetes.

Price was convicted of pushing his wife over a cliff along the Mississippi river so that he and an insurance agent could obtain the large sum of money for which her life was insured.

The conviction came largely through efforts of William Hoy, detective, who instituted a search throughout the northwest for evidence that the two men killed Mrs. Price.

FOREIGN FLASHES

Berlin, April 8.—(U.P.)—The cabinet has approved the draft of a bill for agriculture relief proposed by the food controller, in which the tariffs on food products are once more increased. The price of wheat will be stabilized at 260 marks a metric ton, and that of rye at 230 marks.

Hamburg, Germany, April 8.—(U.P.)—The former Crown Princess Cecile, with her youngest son, Prince Friedrich, sailed today for Buenos Aires, where she will visit another son, Prince Louis Ferdinand, who is working in an automobile factory there.

Tepic, Nayarit, April 8.—(U.P.)—The gang of Mexican bandits which has held J. E. Bristow, Texas oil man, captive for a month, prepared today to surrender their prisoner.

Gordon Obie Bristow, former captain of the University of Oklahoma football team and son of the prisoner, concluded negotiations with a representative of the bandits for release of his father.

The agreement called for the safe return of Bristow today in payment of 3,000 pesos.

As soon as the Texan is safe, military authorities here planned to launch a campaign of extermination against the bandits.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT ON TRIAL

St. Paul, April 8.—(U.P.)—William Keller, one of three suspects in the robbery March 17 of the Payne Avenue State Bank, went on trial in Ramsey county district court today.

Most of the session was devoted to selection of a jury. Joseph Conroy and George Vreeland, the other two suspects, will follow Keller on trial in the order named.

SENATE DRYS IN CAMPAIGN TO ATTACK BUYING

SENATOR SHEPPARD HAS BILL
PLACING HEAVY PENALTIES ON LIQUOR BUYERS

PENALTIES OF 5 YEARS IN JAIL
WITH $10,000 MAXIMUM FINE
FOR PURCHASERS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 8.—Senate drys are planning a drive to make buyers of liquor equally guilty with sellers as the lobby committee continues its investigation into the wet and dry activities of prominent political leaders. Two outstanding developments came in the seething prohibition controversy today:

1. Senator Sheppard, democrat, of Texas, announced that hearings on his bill to hand heavy penalties on liquor buyers would begin by a subcommittee of the judiciary next week.

2. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., prominent dry and navy secretary under Woodrow Wilson, was called before the senate lobby committee to shed additional light on his editorial demand in the Raleigh News and Observer for the resignation of Chairman John J. Raskob of the democratic national committee.

Sheppard said he would appear before the committee in behalf of his bill and would decide later whether to call agents of dry organizations, which apparently are split over the proposal.

His bill carries proposed penalties of five years in jail with a $10,000 maximum fine for purchasers, the same maximum penalties offered bootleggers under the Jones act. Senator Brookhart, republican, endorsed the measure late yesterday in an attack on the wet.

Daniels was called before the lobby committee by Senator Robinson, republican, Ind., the only "regular" republican on the committee. His appearance was expected to provoke another clash between committee members similar to that when Chairman John J. Raskob of the democratic national committee, appeared last week.

Henry J. Curran, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, also was called before the committee today but his appearance depended upon the length of Daniels' testimony.

The Williamson transfer bill, shifting enforcement from the treasury to the justice department, will be taken up Thursday by a senate judiciary subcommittee. Desire for early enactment of this measure was expressed to the judiciary committee yesterday by Attorney General Mitchell.

A fight by western insurgents to repeal the national origins clause of the immigration act was foreshadowed as the senate took up the Harris immigration bill. This measure would extend the national origins clause to countries of the western hemisphere. It now applies to the rest of the world, save those countries which have no quota.

The westerners, who opposed the clause, which works out to decrease immigration from southern European and Scandinavian countries, while increasing the quotas of England and Germany, may seek to attach a repeal amendment to the Harris bill.

Before the senate also was the annual appropriation bill.

Meanwhile the senate naval affairs subcommittee planned to open an inquiry which may grow into a first-class investigation of America's naval aviation and its status as compared with that of other countries. The committee today called before it Alford J. Williams, famous navy speed pilot, who resigned his commission recently because he was ordered to sea duty.

Transportation had the place of honor in the interstate commerce committee, which considered the Parker bill to regulate bus lines. The agriculture committee continued hearings on a survey of unskilled farm labor.

Consolidation of the various government agencies caring for war veterans was the business of the day in the house. The house judiciary committee was to continue its investigation into charges against Judge Moskowitz of New York.

POPE PIUS RECEIVES MEXICAN ARCHBISHOP

Vatican City, April 8.—(U.P.)—Pope Pius received Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores of Mexico, in private audience today. The archbishop was one of the chief negotiators in the recent settlement of the church problem.

Later 80 Mexican pilgrims were received by the pope. The pope, addressing the pilgrims, said he blessed them and Mexico with particular affection because "Mexico has been so much tried and has suffered so much and Mexicans have been able to show their attachment to the faith of their forefathers and loyalty to the church."

Frank McGinty of St. Paul has arrived in the city and has taken a position as a clerk at the Ransford hotel. Past Exalted Ruler J. T. Sanborn was the installing officer of the Elks' last evening. A social time followed the installation. A. L. Mattes was elected representative to the grand lodge and J. T. Sanborn was selected as alternate.

There was a most disastrous wreck over on the cut off at 2 o'clock this morning in which Engineer "Boo" Murray, one of the best known employees of the Northern Pacific on the Minnesota division was killed outright. Passengers on the passenger train were badly shaken up but all escaped serious injury. There was about eight tons of mail on the train and five mail clerks all of whom escaped injury. The car was almost cut in two and the ends and sides were smashed to smithereens. The engine on which Mr. Murray met his death has been considered a hoodoo for a long time by railroad men. It is claimed that no less than 12 men have met a fate similar to his.

Fire Inspector Bennett is doing some hustling and is going right down the line regardless of person and is ordering everybody to clean up.

Sheriff Erickson is understood to have a good clue to the robbers who entered the Fingerson store at Merrifield and is hitting the trail after the culprits.

The census man is on the job, and there is trouble ahead of him in Hollywood, when he begins counting noses in the famous movie colony. Unless he is careful he is likely to get his names all twisted on official records. The above segregation of stars of filmland with the names by which they are known on Uncle Sam's roster are a test for your memory of faces and names. An interesting thing is to carefully go over the picture, just as the census man must go over the colony, and try if you recognize your favorite film stars by these names.

Puzzled Census Takers in Filmland

The census man is on the job, and there is trouble ahead of him in Hollywood, when he begins counting noses in the famous movie colony. Unless he is careful he is likely to get his names all twisted on official records. The above segregation of stars of filmland with the names by which they are known on Uncle Sam's roster are a test for your memory of faces and names. An interesting thing is to carefully go over the picture, just as the census man must go over the colony, and try if you recognize your favorite film stars by these names.

D. A. R. Luncheon

The D. A. R. will meet on Thursday afternoon at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Mahlum, 229 Chippewa. Mrs. J. M. Hayes and Mrs. M. A. Bronson will be hostesses.

Free Tuberculosis Clinic

There will be a free tuberculosis clinic at the court house Saturday, April 12, from 10 to 12 o'clock. Dr. E. L. Strader of the Deerwood Sanatorium will conduct the clinic.

DeMolay Play on April 25

The DeMolay boys, members of the advisory council and several of the Masons now have tickets for sale on the DeMolay play to be given on April 25. Tickets are also on sale at John Carlson & Son store and John M. Bye Clothing Company.

Hanson-Lyng

Emil Hanson of Minneapolis and Alma Lyng were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. O. L. Bolstad, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lyng, 1021 Kingwood.

St. Mary's Guild

St. Mary's Guild of the St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet in the church basement Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The hostesses will be the Misses Minnie, Marie and Clara Stein.

Mrs. Harry Paine will read the story of "The Lost Word" by Henry Van Dyke and Rev. C. M. Brandon will give a short talk on Easter. The members of the Guild will also be called on to tell how they have earned their Lenten offerings.

Her Romance Ties Music Notes to Bank Notes

The former Miss Edna Holdsworth, 33, a well-known choir singer of Malden and Somerville, Mass., whose marriage to John C. Halden, wealthy Boston architect, has been announced. Mr. Halden is sixty years old and is divorced. He married the second Mrs. Halden at the "Little Church Around the Corner," New York, and the couple are honeymooning in Bermuda.

If possession is 9 points of the law then all signs point to the John M. Bye Clothing Co.'s Store for Easter Clothing.

Your main reason for coming here is that here is where you will find huge and attractive assortments.

Your next reason is that the John M. Bye Clothing Co. have the outstanding values in suits and topcoats and style without thrift is as unattractive as thrift without style.

Every man who is firm in his determination to improve on past clothing experiences, is invited to come and see the stock that is capable of accomplishing it.

Who's Who and What's What at the Lincoln

All teachers of children from the fourth grade and up are making a very strong appeal to their parents to see that they study at home evenings. In the upper grades, all the children must get their geography lessons entirely after school hours, and all the teachers request parents to see that the geography book is not kept as a parlor ornament.

The third grade in Miss Hegstad's room has started their Japanese project.

Miss Franklin's room had three visitors last Friday, Alta Cregar, Clara Gendron and Ruby Fallquist.

Have you seen the Good Health House Miss Torgerson's room is making? You ought to see it.

A Safety First contest is being started, which will end April 25. The child on each floor, who can make the best Safety First rhyme gets a book, as prize.

There will be no school next week. The following is a list of the winners in the speed and accuracy contest we have been having all through the building:

B 1st—Harriet Doust, Margy Bath, Dona J. Olson, Francis Anderson.

A 1st—Alice Mae Anderson, Arthur Lev, Marlyss McGinn.

B 2nd—Billy Butka, Anna Engstrom, Thelma Phillips.

A 2nd—Wm. R. Johnson, Fred Bernard, Warren Benson, Alice Hermann.

B 3rd—Genevieve Thomason, Genevieve Bath, Ruth Stevens.

A 3rd—Lester Gakin, Margy Hallas, Ernest Nordstrom.

B 4th—Gene Bierhaus, Willard Morss, Marion J. McCulloch, Donald Whiting.

A 4th—Harold Rodman, Fritz Bierhaus, Virginia Gendron.

B 5th—Geo. Schlieff, Nordahl Johnson, Jean Hagberg, Ethel Volk.

A 5th—Lorna Kraklau, Esther Ley, Elma Gurrard.

A 7th—Helen Lucas, Virginia Hagelbeck, Jas. Cunningham, Bernice Morss.

Janet Gaynor's Transition to Singing
Comedienne, Startling

An entirely new type of Janet Gaynor makes her debut in "Sunny Side Up." DeSylva, Brown and Henderson musical comedy produced by Fox Movietone.

She is a vivacious, laughing, singing, dancing little comedienne, in startling contrast to the plaintive, wistful figure she always has been in her starring productions.

But with all the reversal of character, Miss Gaynor, reviewers say, has sacrificed none of the sweetness and daintiness that has made her the most appealing figure on the screen during the last three years.

In "Sunny Side Up," Miss Gaynor is a happy-go lucky resident of Yorkville, New York's upper East Side. Despite her lowly social station, however, she has ambitions and her dreams suddenly begin to come true when she charms Charles Farrell, who enacts the role of a wealthy young society man from Southampton, Long Island.

David Butler directed "Sunny Side Up," which will be seen and heard at the Paramount tonight and Wednesday.

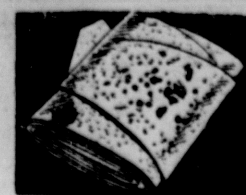

EARL OF DERBY TO WITNESS THE KENTUCKY DERBY

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—(U.P.)—Earl of Derby, English nobleman and sports enthusiast, will arrive in New York in May and before he comes here to witness the Kentucky Derby will stop off at Washington to pay his respects to President Hoover. During his stay in America, Lord Derby will be the guest of Joseph T. Widener of Philadelphia, president of the racing club which operates Belmont Park. The British nobleman is making the trip for the sole purpose of seeing the derby.

TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 1930

At the National Flower Show

ADVISED in advance how to see the National Flower Show in all its glory in a first view, the writer ascended the ramps of the Minneapolis auditorium and got up on the sky line, and then glanced below and saw the whole show in its wonderfully beautiful, colorful entirety. The stage housed the orchids, acacias, palms and many other rare plants. On the main floor were the gardens, the tulips in one section sending out a blaze of color. It all looked like a fairyland picture, the landscaping blending into a harmonious masterpiece.

Hydrangeas, acacias, palms, tulips, peach trees in blossom, hyacinths, roses, carnations, orchids, lilies of the valley, vied for attention. An odd plant on display was an insect eating specimen from Borneo. A mass of color loomed in 100 square feet of hydrangeas displayed by Holm & Olson of St. Paul. Cut roses were there from St. Joseph, Mo., Council Bluffs, Iowa, Richmond, Indiana, and other growers. The acacia display of Thomas Roland, of Nahant, Mass., was remarkable.

Crow Wing county had a lily in the shadow box display on the lower floor. Some one said there were no glads shown, but on the lower floor Vaughan's seed house had a beautiful display of these cut flowers from their Florida gardens.

The Child Driver

CHILDREN under age driving motor vehicles will be one of the matters to have attention of the new State Highway patrol during the coming summer, according to C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways. Mr. Babcock has received a number of letters from different sections of the state complaining that the section of the law covering the age of drivers is being violated, and has turned them over to the highway patrol for appropriate action.

The law covering the age of drivers reads as follows:
"No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on any highway in this state who is under 15 years of age unless such person is accompanied at the time by a duly licensed chauffeur, or by the owner, or by a competent person over 15 years of age authorized by the owner of the motor vehicle being operated, provided that such owner must be 15 years of age or over."

The Minnesota law covering age of drivers is more liberal than the law in most other states, and Mr. Babcock believes that it should be rigidly enforced, especially on the trunk highways and on other streets and highways where there is any considerable traffic.

Duluth to Entertain Rotarians

ONE thousand Rotarians from points in Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota and Superior, Wis., will convene at Duluth May 15 and 16 to discuss Rotary activities of the Ninth district for the coming year.

Forty-one clubs in the district, representing 2,300 residents of these four states, will send delegates to Duluth to hear Raymond J. Knoepfel of New York City talk on "Rotary." Mr. Knoepfel is formerly president of the New York Rotary club. Elaborate entertainment features have been planned by the Duluth club for the visitors and their wives. Duluth's vast industrial resources, harbor facilities and iron ore docks will be shown the men of the party; while bridge teas, luncheons and sightseeing trips will feature the ladies' entertainment schedule. Brainerd Rotary club expects to be well represented. In early years Brainerd at one time was represented 100 per cent at a Duluth district convention. Frank N. Russell is chairman of the local "On to Duluth" committee.

The Summer Tourist

THE summer tourist will soon be here and he and his friends make up a formidable army which by trading in Brainerd territory contributes to the prosperity and welfare of the city and its surrounding lake region.

An unusual story comes to the Brainerd Dispatch from a resort owner near Brainerd who said that last year a tourist inquiring in Brainerd about nearby resorts was referred by 12 out of 14 persons to places 75 miles from Brainerd.

Seventy-five miles puts the summer tourist so far northward that Brainerd and the lake region in this vicinity get little or no benefit from his presence.

Brainerd officials, business and professional men, all citizens should study this lake country and be prepared to give information. Anything we do in this manner, eventually benefits our whole area. Familiarize yourself with all the resorts near Brainerd.

MINNESOTA will be one of a limited number of states which will act next October as hosts to delegations of leading highway engineers and officials, representing all of the principal nations of both the eastern and western hemispheres. The visit to Minnesota will be made following the sixth International Road Congress, which will be held in Washington, D. C., October 6 to 11.

THERE are still some hard-boiled traffic cops in the cities who bear down hard on the offending motorist. The big trouble in the cities is absence of visible street signs.

JUSTICE acted quickly in the case of the confessed slayer of three persons and Andy Mann is now in prison at Stillwater.

EVERY community has its own problems, and they must be solved in distinct ways. No general scheme will fit.

MORE moisture is needed in the Brainerd lake region to bring lakes to normal water levels.

THE value of newspapers as advertising mediums is daily receiving more recognition.

FIFTY-EIGHT are registered in the Cloquet evening school for Americanization.

NATURALIZATION work is being offered in three schools in Duluth.

SUNDAY's dust and windstorm extended northward several hundred miles from the Twin Cities.

BRAINERD HIGH SCHOOL, TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 1930

Number 30

1930 Class Memorial Is Now Completed

SENIOR PAINTING PRESENTED TODAY

MRS. J. A. THABES ACCEPTS PICTURE IN BEHALF OF BOARD

At an assembly of high school students and interested friends this morning, the senior class memorial, that of a painting by Mrs. J. A. Thabes, was formally presented to the school by Clarence Holden speaking for the senior class. Mrs. J. A. Thabes accepted the picture in behalf of the board of education and the school. This painting, concerned with an episode in the life of Lieutenant Zebulon Pike, is the product of the local artist, who was commissioned by the class of 1930 to prepare it as a memorial. It will be placed in the library to delight and to inspire students and visitors.

As president of the Senior class, Clarence Holden called attention to the fact that it is the custom for every graduating group to leave a memorial. When the fire destroyed the old building, many of these memorials were lost and must now be replaced. The class of '30 will be the first to graduate in the new building. It is proud to present this picture which so excellently portrays the idea of advancement to the school. This picture, said the senior president, will add beauty and dignity to this building which in itself is a joy.

Mrs. Heald, the artist, gave a history of the chief figure in the picture and an explanation of the incident portrayed.

Lieutenant Zebulon Montgomery Pike, 2nd U. S. Infantry by command from General Wilkinson, Commander in Chief, U. S. A. embarked from St. Louis, August 9, 1805, with one sergeant, two corporals and 17 privates, up the Mississippi to discover the headwaters; to establish peace between warring tribes; to investigate traditions at British and French trading posts; and to report on the most advantageous sites for establishing government military posts.

Held up by the extraordinarily severe winter weather and badly damaged boats, the expedition made winter quarters at "Pike's Point," four miles south of Little Falls and from here Lieutenant Pike, accompanied by Corporal Bradley, the French-Canadian interpreter Pierre Rousseau, and nine privates, continued the journey to Cass Lake, Dec. 10. One "pique" (a dug-out made at Little Falls) towed through the still unfrozen river. The unseasonable storms had been succeeded by an unprecedented thaw. Two hand-made sleds carried their supplies.

The pique was given to two "Chippewa" Indians in gratitude for the gift of two deer at a camp just south of Fort Ripley, Dec. 14, but the river did not freeze over until the evening of December 27. Camp was made along the river bank within the present limits of Brainerd on the night of December 26, and again on the return trip from Cass Lake, (which was mistakenly accepted as the head waters) on March 3, 1886. The entry for December 26 in Pike's own diary reads:

"Broke four sleds, broke into the river four times and had four carrying places, since we left the Riviere de Corbeau. (Crow Wing). The timber was all yellow and pitch pine. Distances covered in that one day, three miles, (measured by his watch, his only way of computing distance).

The picture, as painted by Mrs. Heald, portrays Pike at the moment when he pauses to look about for a camp site, having just passed the present tourist park hill. One of the Indians who were always joining and helping guide the expedition, has already patiently accepted the white man's leadership and has taken up the white man's burden. Behind him, Corporal Bradley is eager to help, while Rousseau somewhat lazily and contemptuously lends a hand. The sleds and dogs follow at some distance.

The artist has caught the indomitable spirit of Lieutenant Pike in painting this picture. One's attention is immediately arrested by the strong, earnest face of the great leader. His is the commanding figure as of course it should be but Mrs. Heald has not been remiss in supplying other details. The snow, the half-frozen river, the trees, the natural beauty of such a season all are there.

From a historical standpoint, details of dress and time are correct. From an artistic standpoint, its outstanding feature is the fact that even the most casual spectator immediately sees that the artist has portrayed the spirit of Lieutenant Pike who wrote in his diary, "To one not determined to succeed, the obstacles would have seemed insurmountable."

Daily kittenbait practice for inter-class teams is in progress down at the Water Tower grounds. At least three teams are out for every section which should make the coming tournament interesting. Since baseball is out of the question this spring, diamond ball is seemingly taking its place.

Macalester Glee Club Sings Before Assembly

Students of Brainerd high school were enjoyably entertained by the Macalester Glee club Thursday morning upon the arrival of the club in the city, en route to Crosby where they gave a concert that evening. The Glee club sang several songs under the direction of J. P. Hall, accompanied by C. Wesley Anderson at the piano. After the singing of the Macalester "Tousser," "Swing Along," and "Bridges of the Night," the appreciation of the students was so evidenced that the club responded by singing "Women." Due to lack of time another encore was not granted.

WHY WE HAVE A SCHOOL PAPER

A school paper is a school paper not only in name but in fact. Therefore, you people who are subscribing, please take into consideration the size of the school and the fewness of activities, and help us.

It is not entirely the paper—it is the motive behind it. We do not make the school paper because it is fun any more than we go to school because it is fun. The school paper has a greater significance than that. It promotes school spirit by uniting the school in an effort to collect news for the paper. All the pupils are on the lookout for news, which helps their sense of news values.

Surprising qualities are brought out in poetry and prose by both the high school and grades, because everyone wants to write something that will get his name in the paper. All the pupils work harder to get on the honor roll because that is printed in the paper and everybody reads it and comments on it.

The school paper helps also in studies in school such as literature and grammar, for the news notes should be grammatically correct before they are handed in.

BLUE AND WHITE RUNNERS PLACE FIFTH IN RELAYS

LAMMON, SCHUETY, HERRMAN AND HOFFBAUER COMPRISE BRAINERD TEAM

Besides taking part, four runners of the Blue and White witnessed one of the best relay meets ever run off down at the University of Minnesota.

The team comprising of Male Lammon, Nate Schuety, Bill Herrmann and Johnny Hoffbauer finished fifth in the Central Minnesota Half Mile Relay. Montevideo broke their own record by running the stretch in 1:40.9. The rest of the entrants finished in the following order—St. Cloud Tech, Crosby, Little Falls, Brainerd, Moorhead and Alden.

Highlights of the meet follow:
Johnny Hass, of U. of Minnesota, and his spectacular spring to victory in the 60 yard dash in 6.3 seconds, a second above the world's record.
Sammy Behr, U. of Wis., breaking of his own record when he tossed the 16 lb. shot put 48 ft. 9-3/4 inches cutting of 2 ft. 8 in.
24 ft. 5 inches was the record of Gordon of Iowa U. 2 1/2 inches short of the world's record.
In the high jump Gordon reached 8.6 ft. while Behr of Wis. and Ridgeway of Carleton took second with 5 ft. 10 inches.

Spills were frequent, especially in the relays where competition was nothing slow.

BRAINERD APPLIES FOR MEMBERSHIP IN HONOR SOCIETY

SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, LEADERSHIP, CHARACTER STRESSED BY ORGANIZATION

Brainerd high school has recently applied for membership in the National Honor Society and if accepted, will organize an honor group in the near future. Students eligible to election to this society are to stand in the first fourth of their respective classes in scholarship. Not more than 15 per cent of the seniors are to be elected to membership in this new chapter. Fifty per cent of the junior class may be chosen during the last month of this year.

Scholarship, service, leadership and character are the objectives of the National Honor society. These virtues are fundamental in society and therefore are most worthy of encouragement. The high school faculty or a faculty committee may be the agency by which students who have shown these characteristics may be selected. It is expected that, without doubt, Brainerd's application will be accepted.

Hi-Y Conference Held in City Friday and Saturday

The district meeting of the Hi-Y Officers Training Conference and the Girl Reserve of Little Falls, took place in Brainerd at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday and Saturday. Registration of the delegates began at five and the banquet at six o'clock.

The program, with Clarence Holden, as master of ceremonies, was as follows: piano solo by Arlene Hagberg, a reading by Majorie Forsberg. A very unique feature was a slight-of-hand performance by Jack Nichols from the Wilmar Hi-Y. Mr. Coffin, state secretary of the boys work, introduced E. S. Davis of Cloquet who gave the main address of the evening.

Saturday morning, Rev. Kafus, of the Methodist church, opened the conference with a very inspiring talk on "Pursuing a Vocation." The meeting broke up into discussion groups led by Mr. Peterson, Mr. Penrose and Mr. Coffin.

The Wilmar Hi-Y president related to the entertaining Hi-Y their method of electing members into the club. Each prospective member is selected on his scholastic standing, character, devotionness to work and leadership. At present they have 15 members in their club.

At 1 o'clock a tour of the city was conducted which included, as high lights going through the paper mill, shops and the school.

Semver Paratus Club to Put On 'The Valiant'

"The Valiant" is the name of this play to be given at the next meeting of the Semver Paratus Club. It is a one act tragedy which was selected from a group of leading short plays by the Wisconsin Drama League (similar to our State High School League) which deals with dramatics as well as debate and declamation.

Zane Smith has the leading part, that of James Dyke, the prisoner. The supporting cast includes: Warden Holt—Otto Dahl. Chaplain—Roger Kleven. Josephine—Helen Sheets.

DAVY'S SLING

Art Hickerson's Ford has caught cold. He ran around too much with the muffler off.

Uncle Knute Paine: "And that, Glennadean, was my experience in the Civil War."

Glennadean: "Well, then what did they use the rest of the army for, uncle?"

James Wigland: "That argument you had with that farmer surely was funny."

Bill Stout: "I'll say so; I thought I'd split when he threw that axe at me."

Boys' Gym Classes Hold Basketball Tournament

Basketball has been revived again! In Mr. Kasch's gym classes teams have been chosen usually five or six aggregations to a class consisting of six men each. These are named after the Big Ten, Missouri Valley, Eastern and Pacific conference teams, such as Minnesota, Notre Dame, Michigan, Iowa and Indiana. To be more accurate, a regular tournament is being held.

During each gym period, when the weather is inclement so that the students cannot go out, games of eight minutes each are played. The winner of one game will meet the winner of another until all the teams are eliminated winner of the final fray will be crowned the champion of all the classes.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB VISITS COUNCIL MEETING

Members of the Social Problems Club enjoyed a visit to the regular city council meeting, held in the beautiful new council room at the city hall last night at eight o'clock.

It was interesting to note the various types of city problems with which these aldermen are confronted. Several delegations were present to address the council with certain requests concerning individual problems over which the jurisdiction of this body rests.

One situation which seemed to greatly concern the visiting club was that of deciding whether or not the Obrecht Stock Company should be permitted to show in Brainerd this summer. Much anxiety was overcome when the council voted to grant the company's request to enter the city.

Mayor Frank E. Little kindly introduced to the club each individual city officer in response to which Miss Herwig, adviser, presented those officers of the organization who were present.

Before the council meeting the visitors were given an opportunity to pass through the city jail. Few of the students before realized what a dismal, disagreeable place of punishment this is.

The members of the Social Problems Club feel very grateful to the aldermen for their kind invitation to visit this council meeting, and also to Mr. Graff who led them through and explained the several compartments of the city jail.

JUNIOR CANDY SALE NETS PROFIT OF $23

Every year the Junior Class gives its candy sale, which is generally given on Senior Dress Up Day. This year the sale was conducted by Helen Untereker, chairman, and her assistants, Edward Cook, Darold Wadsworth, Edward Burke, Vernice Kaatz and Fay Rosina.

Although the Juniors did not net as much this year on their Senior Dress Up Day candy sale as Juniors in former years for the reason that they were not permitted to sell pop or ice cream cones; nevertheless they made $23.73.

Practice Progressing On 'The Nautical Knot'

Operetta rehearsals are progressing and interest in "The Nautical Knot" is increasing. Approximately 90 students are engaged in its production. Costumes will be spectacular and parents may not recognize their children. The boys are displaying much enthusiasm and are coming to front much better than they have in former years. The orchestra will start work on the score soon.

The date of the performance has not yet been decided but it is expected to be given about the middle of May. This operetta will furnish fine entertainment and Miss Rickard promises that it will be just as colorful as former presentations.

Students and faculty of the Brainerd high school wish to express their sympathy to Miss Evelyn Olson, English III instructor, whose sister died last Thursday. Miss Olson was called to Chicago last week only to find that double pneumonia had fastened its hold upon her sister to such an extent that death was the result.

NOTICE

The Literary Edition of the Brainerdian which was printed last Tuesday was the first one of its kind to be prepared by a Brainerdian staff and its success was due in a part to the loyal cooperation of the English instructors in the school. The staff also wishes to thank the Brainerd Daily Dispatch for its kindness in allowing extra space for the issue.

The staff feels that an edition of this kind is very much worthwhile as it enables the public to observe the type of work accomplished by the students and in addition to this it gives the student valuable experience along literary as well as the thrill of seeing his or her own article in print.

We sincerely hope that an issue of this kind will become an annual affair which will be looked forward to by both parents and students.

SENIORS REVEL IN COSTUMES OF ALL HUES FRIDAY

PIRATES, DAMSELS OF '96, NEGROES AND CLOWNS ROOM THROUGH HALLS OF B. H. S.

Senior dress-up day was a decided success with all its costumes and commotion. Pirates, pretty damsels of ninety-six, clowns, negroes, and dainty children all bedecked the hallways of the school. Anyone entering the building at eight fifteen Friday morning would certainly have been surprised. He would have seen a sight that could be found nowhere, except a slight resemblance to it in Barnum & Bailey's Circus.

Many of the costumes showed excellent choice and make-up. Although all of them were good, there were a few outstanding ones.

Claude Holden as a little fellow with his "darling" rompers and freckles was a sight worth going miles to see. Art Hautala and Bernard Foster as the two clowns certainly knew how to live up to their parts. It was hard for one to recognize them.

Alice Peterson with her pig tails and blackened features along with the appropriate clothing easily portrayed Topsy. Roger Kleven and Obert Benson with their blue rompers were very "cute" and could easily have been mistaken for three year olds, (that is figuratively speaking). Dick Ebert was the sweet little girl who went about with the modern dress and Brainerdian Annual papers in his hands. Ross Olmsted with "pikaty" appearance was able to frighten many a freshman. With a sword and pistol in his belt he was a dangerous looking person.

Bernice Wonderly with funny hat, Lillian Maki, Evelyn Hoffman and Edith Frost were the gay girls of ninety-six, with waspish waist lines, puffed sleeves and long flowing skirts. Ethel Kegel was the vampish, little girl from the south seas with a grass skirt that swished from side to side.

Program During 20-Minute Period

During the 20-minute period last Friday, the Senior class, disguised as it was, gave a program announced by Clarence Holden (an Arab).

First, the entire class paraded across the stage of the auditorium. The audience showed its appreciation by much laughter and applause. All the way from colleague Bob Spillman to dainty Joe Heald, carelessly garbed in a woman's lounging robe, a variety of costumes of every description and color was shown.

Bob Spillman, second on the program, gave a vocal solo.

In Jewish garb, Roland Jenkins and David Weber sang a duet, "Ve Can Get It For You Wholesale."

Hattie Zawadzki, the haughty senorita, with two male (supposedly) attendants, Alice Kyalquist and Alvina Racine, sang "A Gay Caballero."

Three sailors, Hilda Dybvik, Almira Christenson and Evelyn Fink, proved to be a very popular trio when they sang, "She Was Just a Sailor's Sweetheart."

Zane Smith and Ross Olmsted, negro and pirate respectively, brought forth a number of new jokes, taken from "Lord Dunsany's Letter."

This was followed by a skit in which three negroes, Weston Shobe, Leslie Swanson and Malcolm Lammon, took part. It was very cleverly done and very humorous. Accompanying himself on the banjo, Weston Shobe favored the students with two or three popular numbers.

The comedy, "Ah," was presented by five seniors, Margaret Vadnais, Bob Spillman, Roger Callahan, Claude Holden and Arthur Lemire, with all the proper intonations.

Lucile Bryan gave the reading, "The Jiner."

"Never Had a Mammy," was done by the inimitable Als, Smith and Peterson, who were dressed as Topsy and Eva.

The program closed with an instrumental solo by Hattie Zawadzki, accompanied by Lorraine Enemark.

PEP BAND ENTERTAINS HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

Roy LaMeter's high school pep band furnished a part of the program presented by the Washington P. T. A. last Tuesday evening in the new auditorium. Miss Geraldine Kiebler, an alumnus of this high school, contributed to the evening's enjoyment by appearing with Julius Witham in several violin selections, with Mrs. Julius Witham at the piano.

Dr. A. K. Cohen led the community singing and after the usual business had been transacted, President R. J. Campbell outlined the policies of the organization for the coming year. He also expressed the hope that parents and teachers might know each other better so that their mutual understanding might increasingly benefit high school students.

Lunch was served by the refreshment committee in the cafeteria.

At the National Flower Show

ADVISED in advance how to see the National Flower Show in all its glory in a first view, the writer ascended the ramps of the Minneapolis auditorium and got up on the sky line, and then glanced below and saw the whole show in its wonderfully beautiful, colorful entirety. The stage housed the orchids, acacias, palms and many other rare plants. On the main floor were the gardens, the tulips in one section sending out a blaze of color. It all looked like a fairyland picture, the landscaping blending into a harmonious masterpiece.

Hydrangeas, acacias, palms, tulips, peach trees in blossom, hyacinths, roses, carnations, orchids, lilies of the valley, vied for attention. An odd plant on display was an insect eating specimen from Borneo. A mass of color loomed in 100 square feet of hydrangeas displayed by Holm & Olson of St. Paul. Cut roses were there from St. Joseph, Mo., Council Bluffs, Iowa, Richmond, Indiana, and other growers. The acacia display of Thomas Roland, of Nahant, Mass., was remarkable.

Crow Wing county had a lily in the shadow box display on the lower floor. Some one said there were no glads shown, but on the lower floor Vaughan's seed house had a beautiful display of these cut flowers from their Florida gardens.

The Child Driver

CHILDREN under age driving motor vehicles will be one of the matters to have attention of the new State Highway patrol during the coming summer, according to C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways. Mr. Babcock has received a number of letters from different sections of the state complaining that the section of the law covering the age of drivers is being violated, and has turned them over to the highway patrol for appropriate action.

The law covering the age of drivers reads as follows:

"No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on any highway in this state who is under 15 years of age unless such person is accompanied at the time by a duly licensed chauffeur, or by the owner, or by a competent person over 15 years of age authorized by the owner of the motor vehicle being operated, provided that such owner must be 15 years of age or over."

The Minnesota law covering age of drivers is more liberal than the law in most other states, and Mr. Babcock believes that it should be rigidly enforced, especially on the trunk highways and on other streets and highways where there is any considerable traffic.

Duluth to Entertain Rotarians

ONE thousand Rotarians from points in Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota and Superior, Wis., will convene at Duluth May 15 and 16 to discuss Rotary activities of the Ninth district for the coming year.

Forty-one clubs in the district, representing 2,300 residents of these four states, will send delegates to Duluth to hear Raymond J. Knoepfel of New York City talk on "Rotary." Mr. Knoepfel is formerly president of the New York Rotary club.

Elaborate entertainment features have been planned by the Duluth club for the visitors and their wives. Duluth's vast industrial resources, harbor facilities and iron ore docks will be shown the men of the party; while bridge teas, luncheons and sightseeing trips will feature the ladies' entertainment schedule.

Brainerd Rotary club expects to be well represented. In early years Brainerd at one time was represented 100 per cent at a Duluth district convention. Frank N. Russell is chairman of the local "On to Duluth" committee.

Macalester Glee Club
Sings Before Assembly

Students of Brainerd high school were enjoyably entertained by the Macalester Glee club Thursday morning upon the arrival of the club in the city, en route to Crosby where they gave a concert that evening. The Glee club sang several songs under the direction of J. P. Hall, accompanied by C. Wesley Anderson at the piano. After the singing of the Macalester "Rouser," "Swing Along," and "Bridges of the Night," the appreciation of the students was so evidenced that the club responded by singing "Women." Due to lack of time another encore was not granted.

WHY WE HAVE A SCHOOL PAPER

A school paper is a school paper not only in name but in fact. Therefore, you people who are subscribing, please take into consideration the size of the school and the fewness of activities, and help us.

It is not entirely the paper—it is the motive behind it. We do not make the school paper because it is fun any more than we go to school because it is fun. The school paper has a greater significance than that! It promotes school spirit by uniting the school in an effort to collect news for the paper. All the pupils are on the lookout for news, which helps their sense of news values.

Surprising qualities are brought out in poetry and prose by both the high school and grades, because everyone wants to write something that will get his name in the paper. All the pupils work harder to get on the honor roll because that is printed in the paper and everybody reads it and comments on it.

The school paper helps also in studies in school such as literature and grammar, for the news notes should be grammatically correct before they are handed in.

Hi-Y Conference Held in City Friday and Saturday

The district meeting of the Hi-Y Officers Training Conference and the Girl Reserve of Little Falls, took place in Brainerd at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday and Saturday. Registration of the delegates began at five and the banquet at six o'clock.

The program, with Clarence Holden, as master of ceremonies, was as follows: piano solo by Arline Hagberg, a reading by Majorie Forsberg. A very unique feature was a slight-of-hand performance by Jack Nichols from the Wilmar Hi-Y. Mr. Coffin, state secretary of the boys work, introduced E. S. Davis of Cloquet who gave the main address of the evening.

Saturday morning, Rev. Kafus, of the Methodist church, opened the conference with a very inspiring talk on "Pursuing A Vocation." The meeting broke up into discussion groups led by Mr. Peterson, Mr. Penrose and Mr. Coffin.

The Wilmar Hi-Y president related to the entertaining Hi-Y their method of electing members into the club. Each prospective member is selected on his scholastic standing, character, devotion to work and leadership. At present they have 15 members in their club.

At 1 o'clock a tour of the city was conducted, which included, as high lights going through the paper mill, shops and the school.

Semper Paratus Club to Put On 'The Valiant'

"The Valiant" is the name of the play to be given at the next meeting of the Semper Paratus club. It is a one act tragedy which was selected from a group of leading short plays by the Wisconsin Drama League (similar to our State High School League) which deals with dramatics as well as debate and declamation.

Zane Smith has the leading part, that of James Dyke, the prisoner. The supporting cast includes: Warden Holt—Otto Dahl. Chaplain—Roger Kleven. Josephine—Helen Sheets.

BLUE AND WHITE
RUNNERS PLACE
FIFTH IN RELAYSLAMMON, SCHUETZ, HERRMAN AND HOFFBAUER COMPRISE BRAINERD TEAM

Besides taking part, four runners of the Blue and White witnessed one of the best relay meets ever run off down at the University of Minnesota.

The team comprising of Male Lammon, Nate Schuetz, Bill Herrmann and Johnny Hoffbauer finished fifth in the Central Minnesota Half Mile Relay. Montevideo broke their own record by running the stretch in 1:40. The rest of the entrants finished in the following order—St. Cloud Tech, Crosby, Little Falls, Brainerd, Moorhead and Aitkin.

Highlights of the meet follow: Johnny Hass, of U. of Minnesota, and his spectacular spring to victory in the 60 yard dash in 6.3 seconds, a second above the world's record. Sammy Behr's, U. of Wis., breaking of his own record when he tossed the 16 lb. shot put 48 ft. 9-3/4 inches cutting of 2 ft. 8 in.

24 ft. 5 inches was the record of Gordon of Iowa U. 2 1/2 inches short of the world's record.

In the high jump Gordon reached 86 ft. while Behr of Wis. and Ridgeway of Carleton took second with 5 ft. 10 inches.

Spills were frequent, especially in the relay where competition was nothing slow.

BRAINERD APPLIES FOR MEMBERSHIP
IN HONOR SOCIETYSCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, LEADERSHIP,
CHARACTER STRESSED
BY ORGANIZATION

Brainerd high school has recently applied for membership in the National Honor society and it accepted, will organize an honor group in the near future. Students eligible to election to this society are to stand in the first fourth of their respective classes in scholarship. Not more than 15 per cent of the seniors are to be elected to membership in this new chapter. Five per cent of the junior class may be chosen during the last month of this year.

Scholarship, service, leadership and character are the objectives of the National Honor society. These virtues are fundamental in society and therefore are most worthy of encouragement. The high school faculty or a faculty committee may be the agency by which students who have shown these characteristics, may be selected. It is expected that, without doubt, Brainerd's application will be accepted.

VALUABLE DOCUMENTS
PRESENTED BY D. A. R.

Daughters of the American Revolution, Brainerd chapter today presented the high school with two framed copies of important and interesting historical documents. These copies which had been in the possession of Mrs. M. A. Bronson, presiding officer of the chapter, were given to the D. A. R. who in turn made a gift of them to the high school.

One of the original copies of the Declaration of Independence was the first to be presented. The second was a 50 year old facsimile of the immortal Mayflower compact.

Students are grateful to the D. A. R. for these splendid gifts and feel that they are valuable additions to the new school.

NOTICE

The Literary Edition of the Brainerdian which was printed last Tuesday was the first one of its kind to be prepared by a Brainerdian staff and its success was due in a part to the loyal cooperation of the English instructors in the school. The staff also wishes to thank the Brainerd Daily Dispatch for its kindness in allowing extra space for the issue.

The staff feels that an edition of this kind is very much worthwhile as it enables the public to observe the type of work accomplished by the students and in addition to this it gives the student valuable experience along literary as well as the thrill of seeing his or her own article in print.

We sincerely hope that an issue of this kind will become an annual affair which will be looked forward to by both parents and students.

DAVY'S SLING

Art Hickerson's Ford has caught cold. He ran around too much with the muffler off.

Uncle Knute Paine: "And that, Glennadean, was my experience in the Civil War."

Glennadean: "Well, then what did they use the rest of the army for, uncle?"

James Wieland: "That argument you had with that farmer surely was funny."

Bill Stout: "I'll say so; I thought I'd split when he threw that axe at me."

Boys' Gym Classes Hold
Basketball Tournament

Basketball has been revived again! In Mr. Kasch's gym classes teams have been chosen usually five or six aggregations to a class consisting of six men each. These are named after the Big Ten, Missouri Valley, Eastern and Pacific conference teams, such as Minnesota, Notre Dame, Michigan, Iowa and Indiana. To be more accurate, a regular tournament is being held.

During each gym period, when the weather is inclement so that the students cannot go out, games of eight minutes each are played. The winner of one game will meet the winner of another until all the teams are eliminated. The winner of the final fray will be crowned the champion of all the classes.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB
VISITS COUNCIL MEETING

Members of the Social Problems Club enjoyed a visit to the regular city council meeting, held in the beautiful new council room at the city hall last night at eight o'clock.

It was interesting to note the various types of city problems with which these aldermen are confronted. Several delegations were present to address the council with certain requests concerning individual problems over which the jurisdiction of this body rests.

One situation which seemed to greatly concern the visiting club was that of deciding whether or not the Obrecht Stock Company should be permitted to show in Brainerd this summer. Much anxiety was overcome when the council voted to grant the company's request to enter the city.

Mayor Frank E. Little kindly introduced to the club each individual city officer in response to which Miss Herwig, adviser, presented those officers of the organization who were present.

Before the council meeting the visitors were given an opportunity to pass through the city jail. Few of the students before realized what a dismal, disagreeable place of punishment this is.

The members of the Social Problems Club feel very grateful to the aldermen for their kind invitation to visit this council meeting, and also to Mr. Graff who led them through and explained the several compartments of the city jail.

JUNIOR CANDY SALE
NETS PROFIT OF $23

Every year the Junior Class gives its candy sale, which is generally given on Senior Dress Up Day. This year the sale was conducted by Helen Untereker, chairman, and her assistants, Edward Cook, Darrold Wadsworth, Edward Burke, Vernice Kaatz and Fay Rosina.

Although the Juniors did not net so much this year on their Senior Dress Up Day candy sale as Juniors in former years for the reason that they were not permitted to sell pop or ice cream cones; nevertheless they made $23.73.

Practice Progressing
On 'The Nautical Knot'

Operetta rehearsals are progressing and interest in "The Nautical Knot" is increasing. Approximately 90 students are engaged in its production. Costumes will be spectacular and parents may not recognize their children. The boys are displaying much enthusiasm and are coming to front much better than they have in former years. The orchestra will start work on the score soon.

The date of the performance has not yet been decided but it is expected to be given about the middle of May. This operetta will furnish fine entertainment and Miss Rickard promises that it will be just as colorful as former presentations.

Students and faculty of the Brainerd high school wish to express their sympathy to Miss Evelyn Olson, English III instructor, whose sister died last Thursday. Miss Olson was called to Chicago last week only to find that double pneumonia had fastened its hold upon her sister to such an extent that death was the result.

SENIORS REVEL
IN COSTUMES OF
ALL HUES FRIDAYPIRATES, DAMSELS OF '96, NE-GROES AND CLOWNS ROOM
THROUGH HALLS OF B. H. S.

Senior dress-up day was a decided success with all its costumes and commotion. Pirates, pretty damsels of ninety-six, clowns, negroes, and dainty children all bedecked the hallways of the school. Anyone entering the building at eight fifteen Friday morning would certainly have been surprised. He would have seen a sight that could be found nowhere, except a slight resemblance to it in Barnum & Bailey's Circus.

Many of the costumes showed excellent choice and make-up. Although all of them were good, there were a few outstanding ones.

Claude Holden as a little fellow with his "daring" rompers and freckles was a sight worth going miles to see. Art Hautala and Bernard Foster as the two clowns certainly knew how to live up to their parts. It was hard for one to recognize them.

Alice Peterson with her pig tails and blackened features along with the appropriate clothing easily portrayed Topsy. Roger Kleven and Overt Benson with their blue rompers were very "cute" and could easily have been mistaken for three year olds, (that is figuratively speaking). Dick Ebert was the sweet little girl who went about with the modern dress and Brainerdian Annual papers in his hands. Ross Olmsted with "pirate" appearance was able to frighten many a freshman.

With a sword and pistol in his belt he was a dangerous looking person. Bernice Wonderly with funny hat, Lillian Maki, Evelyn Hoffman and Edith Frost were the gay girls of ninety-six, with waspish waist lines, puffed sleeves and long, flowing skirts.

Ethel Kagel was the vampish, little girl from the south seas with a grass skirt that swished from side to side. Program During 20-Minute Period

During the 20-minute period last Friday, the Senior class, disguised as it was, gave a program announced by Clarence Holden (an Arab).

First, the entire class paraded across the stage of the auditorium. The audience showed its appreciation by much laughter and applause. All the way from collegiate Bob Spillman to dainty Joe Heald, carelessly garbed in a woman's lounging robe, a variety of costumes of every description and color was shown.

Bob Spillman, second on the program, gave a vocal solo.

In Jewish garb, Roland Jenkins and David Weber sang a duet, "Ve Can Get It For You Wholesale." Hattie Zawadzki, the haughty senorita, with two male (supposedly) attendants, Alice Kyallquist and Alvina Racine, sang "A Gay Caballero."

Three sailors, Hilda Dyvik, Almira Christensen and Evelyn Fink, proved to be a very popular trio when they sang, "She Was Just a Sailor's Sweetheart."

Zane Smith and Ross Olmsted, negro and pirate respectively, brought forth a number of new jokes, taken from "Lord Dunsany's Letter."

This was followed by a skit in which three negroes, Weston Shobe, Leslie Swanson and Malcolm Lammon, took part. It was very cleverly done and very humorous. Accompanying himself on the banjo, Weston Shobe favored the students with two or three popular numbers.

The comedy, "Ah," was presented by five seniors, Margaret Vadnais, Bob Spillman, Roger Callahan, Claude Holden and Arthur Lemire, with all the proper intonations.

Lucille Brynha gave the reading, "The Jinx."

"Never Had a Mammy," was done by the inimitable Als, Smith and Peterson, who were dressed as Topsy and Eva.

The program closed with an instrumental solo by Hattie Zawadzki, accompanied by Lorraine Enemark.

PEP BAND ENTERTAINS
HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

Roy LaMeter's high school pep band furnished a part of the program presented by the Washington P. T. A. last Tuesday evening in the new auditorium. Miss Geraldine Kiebler, an alumnus of this high school, contributed to the evening's enjoyment by appearing with Julius Witham in several violin selections, with Mrs. Julius Witham at the piano.

Dr. A. K. Cohen led the community singing and after the usual business had been transacted, President R. J. Campbell outlined the policies of the organization for the coming year. He also expressed the hope that parents and teachers might know each other better so that their mutual understanding might increasingly benefit high school students.

Lunch was served by the refreshment committee in the cafeteria.

U. S. MUCH VAUNTED SUPREMACY IN SPORTS THREATENED

CARNERA TO MAKE RING DEBUT IN CALIFORNIA

COMPETITION IS BOOKED IN EVERY FIELD

INTERNATIONAL CONTESTS ARE SCHEDULED DURING THE PRESENT YEAR

U. S. MAY LOSE CUSTODY OF SEVERAL PRIZED TROPHIES

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 8.—International contests scheduled during 1930 present a serious threat to the United States' vaunted world supremacy in sports. Competition is booked in almost every field of athletic endeavor and there is a strong possibility that the United States will lose the custody of several prized trophies.

France already has taken the Davis Cup and England holds the world speed record for both airplanes and automobiles. This year the British will seek international polo, yachting and motor boat speed laurels while France will defend its honor in tennis and Germany will try for the world heavyweight boxing champion.

The United States suffered defeat in the first international sport competition of the year—Montreal's Les Canadiens defeating the Boston Bruins for the Stanley Cup, which is emblematic of the world professional hockey championship.

Late this month American men and women golfers will invade England in an attempt to make a clean sweep of British golf titles. The British have strong hopes of winning the Walker Cup for the first time.

Later in the season Great Britain will repay the American visit by sending a number of players here to try for the United States amateur and open titles.

Davis Cup competition will be held in France in July. The United States team is expected to reach the challenge round without difficulty, but France will be an overwhelming favorite to retain the trophy.

Max Schmeling of Germany will meet Jack Sharkey at New York in June for the world heavyweight boxing title.

England is organizing an unusually strong polo team. Captain Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., and his mates are favored to win for the U. S., but no one expects a repetition of the one-sided matches of previous years.

Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America's yachting cup has resulted in unusual activities among United States yachtsmen.

Sir Henry Seagrave and Miss Joan Carstairs have challenged Gar Wood to race for motor boat laurels. Wood, who holds the world record of more than 90 miles per hour, will race the British boats at Detroit this summer.

Both Miss Carstairs and Seagrave are building boats which they believe will reach a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

The Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team, now in this country, is meeting with unusual success against American college teams and has a 23-point lead for the Flannery international cup.

Although American track and field leadership will not be challenged seriously until the 1932 Olympics, a preliminary international meet is scheduled this year.

England will send a team to the British empire meet at Canada in August and has agreed to pit the winners of the empire meet against a picked American team in an international match at Chicago or Philadelphia.

NEIL CLISBY IS TO MEET PRIMO AT LOS ANGELES

PACKED HOUSE IS ASSURED TO SEE HEAVYWEIGHTS IN MIX-UP

CLISBY IS 205-POUND NEGRO WHO ONCE BATTLED GEORGE
GODFREY

Los Angeles, April 8.—(U.P.)—Primo Carnera, 275 pounds of Italian fighting man, is scheduled to make his ring debut in southern California before a packed house tonight, according to the management of the Olympic auditorium.

Dodging, and attempting to dodge, the nine-ounce gloves of the Italian heavyweight will be Neil Clisby, 205-pound negro who gained some prominence in the fighting business by meeting George Godfrey.

The two men are slated for ten rounds. Carnera has been in training here the past week to the accompaniment of a fanfare of ballyhoo.

His daily training sessions have drawn hundreds of spectators and with the support of Los Angeles sports writers who are rating Carnera's fighting ability highly, the Italian is a heavy favorite over Clisby.

With the Olympic apparently a sell-out, the fight backers believe they will gross about $38,000, of which Carnera will take $17,000.

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—Primo Carnera, Italy's aspirant to the heavyweight championship, and Bearcat Wright, giant negro heavyweight from Omaha, Neb., have been signed for the feature bout of the derby eye boxing bill here May 16. It will be the first mixed bout ever held here.

VINCENT RICHARDS TO MEET BRAIN AT FIELD HOUSE

Minneapolis, April 8.—(U.P.)—Vincent Richards, American professional tennis star, will meet Phil Brain, Minnesota tennis coach, in a five-set exhibition match at the University of Minnesota field house tonight.

Preceding the principal match of the program, Bob Shay and Bill Widen, northwest doubles champions, will play against Henry Norton and Cullen Thomas. Special permission has been given them by the United States Lawn Tennis association to appear on the same program with professionals.

Van's Cafe came through with two wins over Bye Clothing Co., losing the first game by 45 pins. McKinley's big 231 game was responsible for the win. Van's hit 936 and 972 the last two games for a 2761 total. Elide was star bowler of the evening, chalking up a 623 total with three 200 counts. His games were 210, 203 and 210.

Demmers also was knocking the maples for counts of 203, 214 and 182, totalling 599. McKinley just missed 550.

Lively Auto annexed two games from Alderman-Maghan, losing the last game by 15 pins. Speck Hanson and Lute Hagberg each rolled 564. Hanson's games were 201, 203 and 160 and Hagberg bowled 178, 213 and 173. C. Nelson with 206, 184 and 159 totalled 549, as did McKinley. E. DeRocher had three good games to total 547. This was high on his team.

Better and here's why

THERE WAS SOMETHING of good fortune in the discovery of Camel's inimitable blend. Nothing like it has ever been known. . . . But in addition to the blend, another reason for Camel's superiority is the willingness of its manufacturers to put money into tobacco quality. Money to buy the choicest tobaccos grown, Turkish and Domestic—mild, mellow, fragrant, perfectly cured tobaccos that mingle their aromas in the Camel blend to make a truly wonderful smoke.

No better cigarette can be made than Camel. But the cost to you is no greater.

Young
CORBETT—
UNCROWNED
WELTER KING, WHO
RECENTLY PASTED
CHAMP JACKIE FIELDS
IN A NON-TITLE SCRAP.

© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

THE intelligent, belligerent-looking Italian-American youth sketched above is the reigning boxing sensation on the Pacific Coast, and has been all that for several months. Young Corbett III reached a climax a few weeks ago when he outpointed World's Welterweight Champion Jackie Fields in a 10-rounder at San Francisco. The title was not at stake, since it was one of those "over-weight" things, Fields' manager seeing to that.

Following the Frisco bout, reports spread in the East that Fields deserved no worse than a draw against the popular Fresno boy, the inference being that "home town" surroundings gave the Corbett kid the breaks. However, nine of eleven veteran fight reporters who saw the bout, and ringside canvass, indicated that Fields had been outpointed.

Since then Fields' manager has offered the Corbett camp a return bout—on "overweight" terms, of course. Up to the present, this has been rejected firmly and scornfully, and —

"Scared of a southpaw?" is what the average sport bug comments on Fields' stand in this matter. However, the discreet welterweight king is not the only boxer who shines at good or even fair battlers that move into action with the right arm, instead of the orthodox left, extended.

Jimmy McLarnin is as game and as dangerous as welters come, but his manager indignantly declined a liberal offer for a big Madison Square Garden shot with Corbett III after the latter had buffeted Fields about.

Yes, it is an ancient prejudice of the ring that a second-rate southpaw often can make an orthodox topnotcher look bad and box worse.

Strangely enough few such lefties ever won championships. Tiger Flowers and Al McCoy, both mid-dles, are the only two the "Sport Bug" recalls offhand.

Most star "southies" are dimmed when they ultimately battle with the orthodox masters. But the latter do hate to take on the "Bugs Baers" of boxing. They're "pols" — like Young Corbett III seems to be.

THERE WAS SOMETHING of good fortune in the discovery of Camel's inimitable blend. Nothing like it has ever been known. . . . But in addition to the blend, another reason for Camel's superiority is the willingness of its manufacturers to put money into tobacco quality. Money to buy the choicest tobaccos grown, Turkish and Domestic—mild, mellow, fragrant, perfectly cured tobaccos that mingle their aromas in the Camel blend to make a truly wonderful smoke.

No better cigarette can be made than Camel. But the cost to you is no greater.

Young
CORBETT—
UNCROWNED
WELTER KING, WHO
RECENTLY PASTED
CHAMP JACKIE FIELDS
IN A NON-TITLE SCRAP.

© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

THE intelligent, belligerent-looking Italian-American youth sketched above is the reigning boxing sensation on the Pacific Coast, and has been all that for several months. Young Corbett III reached a climax a few weeks ago when he outpointed World's Welterweight Champion Jackie Fields in a 10-rounder at San Francisco. The title was not at stake, since it was one of those "over-weight" things, Fields' manager seeing to that.

Following the Frisco bout, reports spread in the East that Fields deserved no worse than a draw against the popular Fresno boy, the inference being that "home town" surroundings gave the Corbett kid the breaks. However, nine of eleven veteran fight reporters who saw the bout, and a ringside canvasser, indicated that Fields had been outpointed.

Since then Fields' manager has offered the Corbett camp a return bout—on "overweight" terms, of course. Up to the present, this has been rejected firmly and scornfully, and—

"Scared of a southpaw?" is what the average sport bug comments on Fields' stand in this matter. However, the discreet welterweight king is not the only boxer who shies at good or even fair battles that move into action with the right arm, instead of the orthodox left, extended.

Jimmy McLarnin is as game and as dangerous as welterweights come, but his manager indignantly declined a liberal offer for a big Madison Square Garden shot with Corbett III after the latter had baffled Fields about.

Yes, it is an ancient prejudice of the ring that a second-rate southpaw often can make an orthodox topnotcher look bad and box worse.

Strangely enough few such lefties ever won championships. Tiger Flowers and Al McCoy, both middles, are the only two the "Sport Bug" recalls offhand.

Most star "southies" are dimmed when they ultimately battle with the orthodox masters. But the latter do hate to take on the "Bugs Baer" of boxing. They're "poison"—like Young Corbett III seems to be.

HANKS GIVES STORY OF TRIPLE KILLING

Claims Wife Threatened Him With Axe for Drinking and Not Bringing in Water

RETAINS HIDING SWANSON

Indian States That After He Killed Wife, Grandfather Attacked Him With Knife

Hiding A. Swanson of the law firm of Swanson, Swanson & Swanson, of Brainerd, has been retained as attorney for Wm. Taylor Hanks, Mille Lacs lake Indian charged with the slaying of three of his kin, his wife, her son and Shakoopa, his wife's aged grandfather, at his home at Vineland on Sunday, March 30.

Attorney Swanson returned from Minneapolis last evening where he interviewed Hanks at the Hennepin county jail and at U. S. District Attorney Heise's office regarding the case.

Hanks, no doubt, will be indicted by the federal grand jury at St. Paul this week and tried at Duluth at the May term of court.

Hanks claims that his wife attempted to kill him with an axe because he had been at the home of a friend drinking home brewed beer and because he did not bring water into the house as she had requested. He said he became infuriated, scuffled with his wife, took the axe away from her and told her he would strike her if she came near him. He said that when she came within range of the axe he struck her several times with the axe.

The grandfather who had witnessed the attack while lying on a bed nearby told him in Ojibway that he was going to kill him, he said. Hanks claims that at this time Shakoopa came towards him with a knife and that he then struck him with the axe. He does not recall anything on the killing of the child.

He claims also his wife had threatened his life last January.

Hanks was born in Bay Lake township, Crow Wing county, 44 years ago at his father's house located between Hanks and Portage lakes, the former lake being named after his grandfather. He attended Edison school at Bay Lake and at Carleton University for four and a half years, being schooled up to the sixth grade.

His grandmother, Mrs. S. W. Hanks, was born at Rice Lake, Brainerd, in 1844, 86 years ago. The family had lived in this territory close to 100 years, having moved to Mille Lacs lake several years ago.

Taylor Hanks served in Co. F 128th Infantry and Co. K 158th Infantry during the world war and was gassed. He was also wounded in the left shoulder and for a long time suffered with tuberculosis, drawing government compensation.

The child killed, he said, was a son of Mrs. Hanks and a white man born in January, 1929.

Hanks' first wife died in 1920 of tuberculosis. He married again and was divorced in 1927, securing his divorce on the grounds of adultery. He then married Jane Hanks in June, 1929. Hanks was known as a peaceful, respectable citizen up to the time of the crime and had been employed by the government on investigation of liquor cases, it is reported. The deceased Chief Megeesee was his uncle. His father has been confined in a hospital for the insane since 1919.

Mr. Swanson reported today he had known Hanks for the past 15 years and has done previous legal work for him. He said that Hanks is a man of quiet, reserved nature and deliberate in his actions. He blames the ill effects of liquor on his system for the crimes.

Mr. Hanks is reported to have told Mr. Swanson that he was now realizing the full extent of his crime and that he must have been crazy and out of his head when it happened, and that the act was committed in heat of passion.

The use of the coldframe.

The coldframe is very useful in our climate. With our short growing season a coldframe will bring flowers and vegetables into your garden two to three weeks earlier. When your neighbor is planting his seeds, you will be setting out your well-developed plants.

Coldframes are easy to construct and the small amount of extra work will be worth the effort. The difference between hot beds and coldframes is that the former are heated, usually by a layer of fresh manure under the surface soil, while no heat is used in coldframes; except that which is received from the sun. Coldframes are available for use 3 to 4 weeks before the last freezing date and in our climate may be started at any time from now on.

Frames are commonly 6x3 feet, but you may make it any size. The best way is to pick out a storm window that is no longer needed and build the frame to fit the storm sash. Ordinary boards will suffice and pick out a sunny spot in the garden preferably one that is sheltered from the wind. It should be about 12 inches high in the back and 8 inches at the front. The front is sloped to the south. Bank up the four sides with earth or manure. Many vegetables like cabbages, cauliflowers, lettuce, cucumbers, corn, melons and most of the annual flowers may be started to a great advantage 3 to 4 weeks earlier than the time for setting them out in the open ground. Plants like tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, etc., which have been started in boxes indoors, may be hardened off in the cold frame.

War Aviators in Endurance Flight

Four war aviators are planning to make one of the most unusual and daring endurance flights ever attempted, under the leadership of Chief Pilot Donaldson. They will start the flight at the Sunnyside Country Club, at Eaton, N. J. Not alone will they refuel in the air at regular intervals, but the pilot of the plane will be changed and a fresh one will replace him every fifty hours. The above photo-diagram shows how these daring aviators will, by means of a rope ladder, leave the endurance plane and later lessen the load on the accompanying plane, through parachute leaps to earth.

Two More Victories BY TANLAC OVER "RHEUMATISM" AND STOMACH AILMENTS

Only Medicine That Does What It Claims
says Nicholas J. Jansen

You folks who have tried medicine after medicine without benefit, take heart. Read this letter of Mr. N. J. Jansen and then let your conscience be your guide.

"Before starting Tanlac," said Mr. Jansen, "I was very rundown and suffered terrible agony from pains in every bone in my body. My back hurt until I felt it was pulling in two. My appetite was very poor and gas would form on my stomach and I would bloat until I thought I would burst. I couldn't sleep and didn't care whether I worked or not. I tried medicine after medicine and none gave me relief until I started taking Tanlac and this is the only medicine that does what it claims. Now I feel fine in every way. Pains no longer trouble me, my appetite is good, I sleep good and get up in the morning feeling like a new person."

Neuritis and Stomach Gas Ended For This Lady

You may think because you have been suffering so long and terribly that nothing will help you now. But you cannot read this letter of Mrs. Margaret Wallace without believing that there is hope for you, too, in Tanlac. "All the good things I could say about Tanlac would not express my true sentiments. For 13 years I suffered stomach troubles worse than anybody it seems to me. Gases filled and smothered me causing a pain around the heart and the pain would extend to my back and shoulders and then turn into neuritis. I suffered awfully. Whatever I ate resulted in heartburn. Tanlac is the only medicine that could cope with such severe troubles as mine. It relieved me fully, my stomach is in best condition in 13 years, no longer causing acid, gases and heartburn."

Other Remedies May Promise But Tanlac Performs! A REAL medicine that backs claims with a guarantee ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE AT ALL DRUGGISTS

Ancient Sea Warriors

The word "viking" is not a racial term. It has a twofold meaning, being both locational and martial. The old Norse spelling of this word was "vikiagr," which literally meant "inlet man," the basic word "vik" meaning "inlet of the sea." "Vikiagr" was also the Norse synonym of the Anglo-Saxon word "wicing," which was composed of "wi" (war) and "cing" (king) by which was meant a sea warrior.

Two More Victories BY TANLAC OVER "RHEUMATISM" AND STOMACH AILMENTS

Only Medicine That Does What It Claims
says Nicholas J. Jansen

Neuritis and Stomach Gas Ended For This Lady

You folks who have tried medicine after medicine without benefit, take heart. Read this letter of Mr. N. J. Jansen and then let your conscience be your guide.

"Before starting Tanlac," said Mr. Jansen, "I was very rundown and suffered terrible agony from pains in every bone in my body. My back hurt until I felt it was pulling in two. My appetite was very poor and gas would form on my stomach and I would bloat until I thought I would burst. I couldn't sleep and didn't care whether I worked or not. I tried medicine after medicine and none gave me relief until I started taking Tanlac and this is the only medicine that does what it claims. Now I feel fine in every way. Pains no longer trouble me, my appetite is good, I sleep good and get up in the morning feeling like a new person."

You may think because you have been suffering so long and terribly that nothing will help you now. But you cannot read this letter of Mrs. Margaret Wallace without believing that there is hope for you, too, in Tanlac. "All the good things I could say about Tanlac would not express my true sentiments. For 13 years I suffered stomach troubles worse than anybody it seems to me. Gases filled and smothered me causing a pain around the heart and the pain would extend to my back and shoulders and then turn into neuritis. I suffered awfully. Whatever I ate resulted in heartburn. Tanlac is the only medicine that could cope with such severe troubles as mine. It relieved me fully, my stomach is in best condition in 13 years, no longer causing acid, gases and heartburn."

CITY COUNCIL DROPS PROBE OF EMPLOYEES

Fails to Make Any Definite Gain, Majority Favors Abandoning Investigation

DISCRIMINATION CHARGED

Hall Asserts Not One City Employee
Not Engaged in Side-Line Work

After arguing at length concerning a fire truck driver accepting employment in his off duty hours and seemingly getting nowhere the city council last evening abandoned its probe of city employees working at "sideline" jobs and adopted a resolution on motion of Aldermen W. J. Lyons and Frank B. Johnson that the matter be laid on the table indefinitely.

The council gave up the discussion as a "bad job" and on the resolution to let it drop five voted in favor and four opposed it.

Those voting for the resolution were: Aldermen V. F. Anderson, Harry W. Creger, W. J. Hall, W. J. Lyons, and Frank B. Johnson. Opposing the move were Aldermen Chris Elvick, Elmer Lee, Ernest Ritari and President V. E. Quansstrom.

George Lucas, the driver under fire, charged in a heated argument with members of the council that the body was showing discrimination against him, that he was being singled out. He demanded that others in the city's employ be investigated if the council desired to be fair in the matter.

Lucas asserted that the matter was one of personal nature against him. When questioned as to whether he would stop outside work Lucas stated he would continue to do as he has been doing.

Asked as to the efficiency of Lucas Fire Chief Frank Fuller said that the man's work as a truck driver was without criticism and that his entire force at the present time was the most efficient it has ever been. He said that Brainerd was not the only city in the state where this situation had come up. He said that Minneapolis posted orders for employees to hold only their city jobs but that the order had never been strictly enforced.

Alderman Hall who made a report on the matter stated that in his opinion there was not one employee of the city who was not doing work on the outside.

B. C. Pulkarabek requested the council on behalf of the Tee Pee Oil Co. for permission to construct a super service station with three pumps at the southwest corner of 6th and Northwood streets. He said the building would be fireproof throughout and would be 64 feet by 28 feet.

The request was referred to the city engineer, Aldermen Lyons, Hall, Anderson and Creger with power to act.

The Water and Light Board report for the month of March received and referred to the finance committee showed total receipts of $17,415.38 and $15,810.85 disbursements.

The Park Board report for March was accepted. It follows:

Receipts
March 20, received from taxes $478.95
Disbursements
Amount overdrawn 1.20
Expended on Lum Park 95.19
Expended on Gregory Park 24.08
Expended on tourist camp 24.85

Total $145.32
Licenses to sell milk and cream were granted the following: John Gibson, Wilmer Holmes, Robert Hele, Frank H. Jorgensen, Mrs. Joshua Peterson. The application of Mrs. H. B. Olson for a license was denied.

The Christy-Obrecht Show Co. was granted a permit to operate a dramatic tent show here from July 27 to August 3.

The Brainerd Library report for March follows:
Balance on hand March 1 $565.89
Received from taxes 639.69

Fines and rentals 53.60
Total $1250.18
Total bills 307.45
On hand, April 1 $951.73

A communication was received from Archie Falconer, commander of the American Legion of Brainerd in which he requested the city to give ex-service men preference in filling vacancies. The letter was ordered placed on file.

O. G. Villwock of Villwock Brothers asked for a transfer of the poolroom license of Andrew Smraker to Villwock Bros. The transfer was ordered. In his letter Mr. Villwock said:

"We have purchased the Smraker Pool and Billiard Parlor at 810 Laurel street and request the transfer for operating the same from Andrew Smraker. It is our intention to operate a first class respectable place."

The request of J. O. Anderson to operate two gasoline filling pumps at 1202 South Sixth street was referred to a special committee.

The council on motion of Aldermen Ritari and Hall refused the application of E. A. Finch to operate a curb pump at 9th and Front streets.

A. L. Swanson, 1907 East Oak street requested a license to operate an additional gasoline pump. The license was granted on motion of Alderman Elvick and Hall.

The Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. was granted permission to cut openings in the pavement on Fifth street South for improvements to their lines.

Julius Viken, wire chief, wrote as follows in this connection:
"The Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. plans to place an underground cable in the alley between Front and Laurel streets crossing 5th street and wish to obtain permission of three or four openings in the pavement on 5th street south. We can tunnel under the pavement to lay conduit to take care of our present aerial wires and cable which will be removed in the near future with the understanding that we will reimburse the city for replacing the paving."

On motion of Aldermen Lyons and Hall, President Quansstrom was named delegate to the Minnesota Tax Conference at Minneapolis, April 9 and 10, he in turn to appoint two others.

Mrs. E. T. Fleener was authorized to send out inquiries to clerks and judges on the election board as to whether they will serve again this year.

The letting of paint work in painting the street sprinkler was left in the hands of the property committee with power to act.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell was instructed to advertise the sale of the Northeast Brainerd hose house.

Fire Call Rates
The council approved the rate fixed by the Cuyuna Firemen's Association, a group of fire departments in this district including Brainerd, for department including Brainerd, for departments answering alarms to other towns in the association.

These rates as presented by Fire Chief Fuller were as follows:
One dollar for each mile travelled.
Twenty-five dollars per hour for use of pumper and equipment when at fire.
Ten dollars an hour for use of equipment when not pumping.

One dollar for each man from time of leaving to time of return.

The establishment of rates in answering calls to other towns and villages will solve the question here as to the charge Brainerd should make at Pine River for answering a fire alarm there recently. That charge under the established rate will be $67, Mr. Fuller said.

Ordinances Passed.
An ordinance fixing stop signs to make two streets through streets was given its second and third readings.

This ordinance will require the placing of stop signs on Main street at North Sixth street, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th streets and Gillis avenue at Kingwood street.

The stop signs will be placed immediately and the regulation will be rigidly enforced by the police department.

Main street was exempted from a stop sign at 6th street south.

Plan Paving Work
City Engineer R. T. Campbell was instructed to prepare estimates of the cost and to present such other information as required by section 98 of the city charter to specify let owners and frontage affected in the paving of three streets, Front from 8th to 9th streets, 9th from Front to Laurel streets and Laurel from 8th street to the Mill spur.

Sewer Bids Asked
The council authorized City Engineer Campbell to advertise for bids for the construction of a 1200 foot sewer on North Bluff avenue between North Seventh and North Tenth streets to serve residents of the north side of Bluff avenue.

The bids will be returnable May 5. Mr. Campbell estimated that if the work is done by machine it will cost $1.50 a foot and if done by labor will cost approximately $2 a foot. There will be five manholes for the sewer.

To Build Sidewalks
Additional bids were also called for, these for the construction of cement sidewalks on the north side of Laurel street from 5th street to the Mississippi river bridge, on the west side of North Second street between Laurel and Front streets and that portion on North 4th street between Laurel and Front street where no sidewalk is now in place, also the south side of Northwood street between South 5th and South 6th streets.

Woodland Park Survey
Residents in the Woodland Park addition appeared before the council and asked that a survey made in 1919 be considered as official due to the fact that there was a discrepancy between the survey as made and the plat as filed in the county register of deeds office.

The matter was left in the hands of the city engineer, city attorney and street committee to investigate. It concerns 12 residents and 40 acres of property.

Discuss Drainage Ditch
Discussion on a proposed drainage ditch to divert water from flowing into the general sewer was concluded by referring it to the city engineer for a further report.

Mr. Campbell was also instructed to make an investigation of unsatisfactory draining in the Bluff avenue sewer in the vicinity of North 5th street.

STATE EXAMINERS START WORK HERE

Four Auditors to Check Books of City of Brainerd as Requested of State

Will Examine All Expenditures and Receipts as to Legality of Each

E. F. Baker and W. R. Wilson, state public examiners, started work today on the auditing of the city books as requested of the state in a petition circulated several months ago and instituted by Martin Anderson, former city alderman.

Mr. Baker announced that two additional examiners would arrive in the city tomorrow to assist in the work. He was unable to say how long the work would continue, stating, however, that their work would constitute a thorough check of city expenditures and receipts as to legality.

Figures will be checked four years up to and including 1929.

PLEADS GUILTY TO STRIKING OFFICER

Herman Buscher pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to assault in the third degree, charged with striking Sam Bloomstrom, deputy sheriff, who was policing the dance at Slim's Pavilion Saturday night. He is accused of striking the officer in the face with his fist.

Buscher will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

CHURCH WELCOMES REV. C. A. ACKERMAN

Swedish Baptist Church Congregation Gathers at Reception

A large number of members and friends of the Swedish Baptist church met last evening in the church where a reception in the nature of a welcome was held for their new pastor, Rev. C. A. Ackerman who has come here with his wife and baby from Stratford, Ia.

The gathering was also in the nature of a farewell to Rev. Wm. Backlund, the student pastor who has served the local church on Sundays during the last six months.

A very interesting program was presented with several of the ministers of the city taking part as follows: Rev. E. Valiant of the First Baptist church; Rev. F. A. Kafus of the M. E. church and Rev. N. P. Olmsted of the Congregational church. Rev. Arthur C. Nyberg of Long Prairie also spoke, and all voiced their words of welcome to Rev. Ackerman and family.

The church and the various branches of the church extended a cordial welcome to the new pastor, the following taking part: Alger Thon speaking in behalf of the church; Mrs. George Thon for the ladies aid; Miss Lillian Peterson for the Young People's division and Miss Ruth Gustafson in behalf of the Sunday school.

Rev. Reuben Nelson of Bethel Institute, son of a former pastor, Rev. P. G. Nelson of Brainerd, gave a short talk in which he spoke very highly of Rev. Ackerman, having been acquainted with him as a neighbor pastor in Iowa. He is also a fellow student of Rev. Backlund.

The program was varied with a Swedish solo and an English solo rendered by Rev. Walter Watkins, several vocal numbers by the Bethel Institute male quartet and piano solos by Miss Ruth Gustafson.

Rev. Backlund was presented with a purse of money as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by the church and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman were presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Rev. Backlund will long be remembered by his many friends here and Godspeed was wished him as he leaves for Bethel Institute for two more years of study. Rev. Ackerman comes to the city well recommended and a most cordial welcome was extended to him.

The evening closed with a luncheon which was served in the church parlors.

Steve Nick Magdick is Accepted at Brainerd Recruiting Station

Steve Nick Magdick of Cuyuna took the preliminary physical examination last week at the Brainerd navy recruiting station, and was passed and sent to Minneapolis, where he was enlisted.

He is now at the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., undergoing his preliminary training before being sent to a trade school or to duty with the Pacific fleet.

Take Care of Yourself

One often hears the statement that people are living longer. It is denied by experts as clever as those advancing the claim, but in any event you will not get your share of longer life unless you "take care of yourself" in the old practical way.—Howe's Monthly.

"MASTER OF MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

CHAPTER LI.

It was of the utmost importance that they should keep close to the ledge on leaving camp so that Stephanos should not see them. In dumb-show, she indicated this to the one who appeared to be leader. She put the mare at a slow trot and the Serbians scurried after her.

It took twenty minutes to reach the ambush. As she called a halt and indicated the spot, the Serbian leader nodded approvingly. She stayed to see the two machine guns assembled and the riflemen disposing themselves and then left them.

Ten minutes later she was watching the miniature battle through her field-glasses from a mound behind the shack. Alan's plan had been very simple. As soon as the Serbians were placed in ambush, Abramov and his men were to pretend to flee, in order to encourage Stephanos to rush the camp, in which movement he would necessarily run upon the machine guns of the first party of Serbians.

"Abramov is doing his work too well," she told herself. "His men seem to be firing even more than Stephanos."

In case she should be under observation, she rode up to the shack as if to receive orders, then galloped to Abramov.

"Your men are firing too much!" she shouted. "Mr. Brenaway says only one man in three is to fire now."

"Tell Mr. Brenaway the fire is taking effect. I've only got two wounded and I should think they've got forty."

"Tell Mr. Brenaway nothing!" she yelled back. "Obey his orders, you damned little bandit—do as you're told. And bring me a man to hold my horse."

She had tried to imitate Alan's intonation, and, whether she succeeded or not, Abramov heard in her voice of authority and hastened to obey. She dismounted and, crawling round a boulder, watched Stephanos's men through the field glasses. She waited five minutes and thought she saw movements on the ridge.

"Now, Abramov!" she yelled. "It's time for you to bolt—and Mr. Brenaway said I was to stay on the spot and see you do it properly. They mustn't see me leading you. I'm going to ride to the back of the mound and wait for you. If your men aren't there in five minutes I'm coming back for you."

"All right, Mrs. Brenaway. It's quite all right. I understand the orders," he whined.

Abramov and his men, she admitted, did their work well. They broke from cover and ran with the appearance of panic to the other side of the mound, where they were wholly out of sight of the enemy.

"That was well done, Abramov," said Shirley. "But remember not to argue next time you get an order, won't you?"

"The Serbians are still firing," Abramov told her respectfully. "Shall I send a man up to Mr. Brenaway to see if he wants them to stop?"

"I know he wants them to stop," said Shirley. "I'll go and tell them myself."

She rode back to the Serbians who had made the eastern flank of Abramov's party and again shouted to them in French.

"Me speak plenty English!" cried someone.

"Good!" said Shirley. "Tell your friends to stop firing. They are my husband's orders."

In three minutes the order had been obeyed and Shirley saw with a thrill of excitement that Stephanos's men were massing. She saw them mount and knew that they were about to charge the camp.

She waited until they had ridden from the ridge and were out of sight of the camp, then:

"Tell your men to follow me!" she ordered. The Serbians who understood the manoeuvre required no urging, but ran behind the mare to strengthen the machine gun party at the entrance of the camp.

Shirley galloped back to Abramov's men and brought them from the mound to their former position. They were in reserve in case any of the enemy should pass the Serbians. There was a sickening wait of a couple of minutes and then, for the first time in her life, Shirley heard the thudding rattle of machine guns.

She nervously herself to watch the Serbians through her glasses. She could see the gun teams working and the riflemen firing but she could not see the enemy. The fire lasted for less than a full minute, and then ceased.

The Serbians relaxed their position and one of the men lit a cigarette. Shirley could not understand

Not until she was quite sure that the danger was wholly past would Shirley allow Abramov to guess how it was with his leader. Fortunately Abramov regarded the offer to see the ambush as a privilege, sent a man for his horse and was soon trotting beside her.

As they neared the ambush they again heard the machine guns and stopped. When the firing had ceased they rode on.

"I would be very glad if you would ask them what has happened, Abramov," said Shirley. "I don't speak Serbian."

They turned a bend and came upon the Serbians. Abramov began talking to them and they answered him volubly. Abramov was laughing raucously. The conversation seemed interminable.

"Well, Abramov?" rapped out Shirley.

what had happened. Abramov was at her side, laughing, wringing his hands, and his men, too, were showing excitement, dancing, making a queer sound through their teeth—"z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z!" Then Shirley understood that not a single man had broken through the deadly machine gun fire of the Serbians.

"Stephanos has run away," said Abramov. "What did you say about that ambush, Mrs. Brenaway? I'll go and see the Boss. There's nothing more to do here." "Come with me and see the ambush," said Shirley quickly, and added: "Mr. Brenaway is with the Serbians, I think. I saw him cross over while you were behind the mound. Get a horse if you would like to come."

Ten minutes later she was watching the miniature battle through her field-glasses.

The Serbians relaxed their position and one of the men who had been operating the guns lit a cigarette. Shirley could not understand

Not until she was quite sure that the danger was wholly past would Shirley allow Abramov to guess how it was with his leader. Fortunately Abramov regarded the offer to see the ambush as a privilege, sent a man for his horse and was soon trotting beside her.

As they neared the ambush they again heard the machine guns and stopped. When the firing had ceased they rode on.

"I would be very glad if you would ask them what has happened, Abramov," said Shirley. "I don't speak Serbian."

They turned a bend and came upon the Serbians. Abramov began talking to them and they answered him volubly. Abramov was laughing raucously. The conversation seemed interminable.

"Well, Abramov!" rapped out Shirley.

An Attractive Investment

We are offering a four-plex in good North Side location on terms that the income from it will pay for it.

There are four neat apartments, garage for four cars, and a 75 foot lot on paved street. It is always rented and the income is $85.00 per month.

Owner lives in the West and will sacrifice at

$4500

$500 cash, and the income makes the payments.

Hovering Over Hurdles at Harvard

These crimson trackmen were caught by the camera just as they hovered over a hurdle in one of their early Spring workouts. They are, left to right: Dick O'Connell, Charles Atwood, Warren Rowe and Ted Cole. The cantabs are hoping to roll up some big scores via the hurdle route this Spring.
